NINETY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE PRESBY-TERIAN CHURCH IN THE U. S. A.

With deep gratitude to the great Head of the Church for His sustaining grace, and with sincere thanks to many friends for their helpfulness in word and in deed, the Board of Education herewith respectfully presents its Ninety-second Annual Report to the General Assembly.

A YEAR OF GREAT ENCOURAGEMENT.

It is for the Church to say how far the work of the past year has been prosecuted with fidelity and earnestness. We have endeavored to achieve the best results possible with the funds and equipment at our command, but the results must speak for themselves. Holding as it does peculiarly intimate relations to the spiritual life of the Church, interested as it must be in its evangelistic activity and its administrative efficiency, the Board of Education is, we believe, commending itself to the sympathy and liberality of a larger percentage of the membership of our beloved Church than ever before in its history.

We gratefully record the fact that the number of candidates under the Board's care last year has been maintained and indeed slightly increased. Eight hundred and forty-three men were aided in 1909–'10 and 855 in 1910-'11. Our receipts from churches, Sabbath-schools and societies have increased $6,566.93 over last year, our total income being $31,573.68 larger than appeared in our last Report.

PERSONNEL OF THE BOARD.

The increase of the Board's membership from eighteen to twenty-four having been authorized by the last Assembly, two members have been added to each class as follows: the Rev. Henry C. Swearingen, D.D., of St. Paul, Minn., and Ralph W. Harbison, Esq., of Pittsburgh, were elected to the Class of 1908-'11. The Rev. John Balcom Shaw, D.D., of Chicago, Ill., and William R. Nicholson were added to the Class of 1909–'12. The Rev. Edward H. Pence, D.D., of Detroit, and the Honorable William P. Potter were added to the Class of 1910–'13. Mr. James H. Huston, of Moorestown, was elected to the Class of 1908–'11, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Charles P. Turner, M.D., Mr. J. Fithian Tatem having declined to serve.

On the 20th of August the Board suffered loss in the death of the Rev. J. Sparhawk Jones, D.D., who for many years, in faithfulness and sympathy, proved himself a valued fellow-worker. To fill out the unexpired term of Dr. Jones, the Rev. James Beveridge Lee, D.D., was elected, and the Assembly is respectfully requested to confirm his election as well as that of the other gentlemen named.

The period of service of the following named members has expired: James M. Hubbert, D.D., William P. Finney, D.D., Rev. F. W. Loetscher, Ph.D., Henry C. Swearingen, D.D., S. Spencer Chapman, Esq., George W. Warren, D.D.S., Ralph W. Harbison and James H. Huston. Their re-election for the Class of 1911–'14 is respectfully recommended.

FINANCIAL CONDITIONS.

In our last Report we announced that the receipts from churches, Sabbath-schools and societies were larger than from these sources in any one year for the previous eighteen years. We have pleasure in stating that the banner year of 1891–'92, when the Board received $61,760, has been surpassed this year, the amount being $65,164.60. In addition thereto, we have received from legacies $44,783.61, from individual givers $10,592.51, from refunds $1,380.37, from investments $16,787.98, and from other sources $8,863.50, making total receipts of $147,572.57.

We are persuaded that this increase is due to several causes, as follows: special efforts put forth by the Board through correspondence, literature, and personal appeals to individual givers; the success attending the efforts of its Secretaries in the prosecution of the newer work committed to the Board, and to the general increase in benevolences during the present year throughout the entire Church owing to the adoption of better systems of church finance.

We record with gratification the fact that a larger number of churches have contributed to our Board than ever before recorded, the number being 5,085 as against 4,923 non-contributing churches, a net increase of 176 churches over last year.

An increasing number of Sabbath-schools and Young People's Societies are contributing to the Board's work, while a number of churches are educating their people to take a personal interest in the Board's activities by assuming the cost of a scholarship for a particular ministerial candidate.

As announced in its last Report, the Board is willing to assume its proportionate share of the cost of a campaign of education among the churches, looking toward more businesslike methods in church finance, and the adoption of better systems of administering church benevolence.

With reference to the creation of departments of the Board's work, we beg to call the attention of the Assembly to the fact that small appropriations for the new tasks committed to the Board are being made through the general funds, but that the Board does not feel justified in appropriating lump sums from its treasury unless those sums have been raised upon the field for the work designated. For example, the services of the Secretary for University Work have been freely given to several Synods co-operating in work at State University centres. Likewise the Assistant Secretary has devoted considerable time to the financing of the Lane-Lebanon Alliance, with the understanding that money for this purpose should be raised upon the field. The Board took action to this effect in October as follows:

"All contributions forwarded to our treasury by the treasurers of churches, or special committees for work under the care of these special departments, shall be received and credited to churches or individuals, as the case may be, and forwarded to the object designated. Contributions received for the work of the Board by treasurers of Synodical or Special Committees on the field, and expended directly without passing through the treasury of the Board, cannot be credited upon the books of the Board as a contribution to the work of the Board of Education.

"The services of the Secretary for University Work are at the disposal of Synods agreeing to the Board's policy adopted at the June meeting, 1910, and the services of the Assistant Secretary are, according to the deliverances of the General Assembly of 1910, given to 'the Body created by the General Assembly for the purpose of administering theological education in the South and Southwest (Lane-Lebanon Alliance) to perfect measures looking to the care and training of students coming from that region.' (Action of the General Assembly, p. 69, Board's Report, 1910.)

"The Board does not recognize any further obligations, financial or otherwise, to Synods or sections of the Church except in accordance with its regular work and as hereinbefore specified."

MINISTERIAL CANDIDATES AIDED.

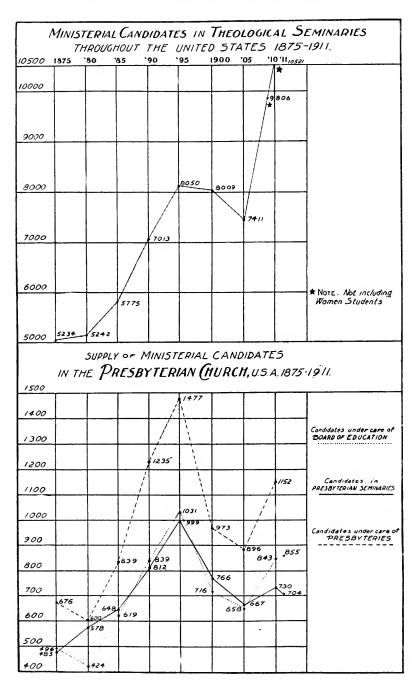

Of the 855 candidates aided, at a cost to the Church per capita of $95, there are 239 "New Men" and 616 "Renewals," an increase of two "New Men" and ten "Renewals." Twenty-three candidates were regretfully declined this year as against nineteen the year previous.

We called attention last year to a general increase throughout the country in number of candidates for the ministry. The accompanying diagram (see p. 7) indicates graphically the fluctuations in supply since the year 1875. The high-water mark was reached in 1895, the Presbyterian Church showing a more accentuated increase and decline than that shown throughout the Church at large. In 1905 the supply in the Presbyterian Church declined to the number of candidates twenty years previous, but since that time our Church, in common with all other denominations, has been approaching more normal conditions, normal being construed in our Church as one candidate to 800 church members. At present the Church has 1 candidate to 1,162 church members, as against 1 to 1,239 church members last year.

The diagram indicates that the Board's work has kept pace with the number of candidates under the care of Presbyteries. Since 1905, however, the number of candidates in Presbyterian Seminaries has not increased in like proportion. It is to be further noted that in 1900 this Board had fewer candidates under its care than were in Presbyterian Seminaries, but that to-day we have over 100 more than are attending such Seminaries.

We regret to note that the increase in attendance upon our Seminaries, since the low-water mark of 1905, has been checked during the past year, the latest returns from the Seminaries indicating that whereas there were 730 men in our Seminaries last year, there have been 704 in attendance during the school year now closing.

Turning, however, from the comparatively unprofitable study of statistics, we desire to record our deep conviction that the cry for more and better laborers should lose none of the fervency of an appeal based upon vital need. With the missionary activities of the Church stimulated by startling political, social and educational developments in the far East, and by the newly awakened lay interest in missions at home and abroad, it would be folly for this Board to relax its earnest efforts in behalf of a larger and better supply of ministers and missionaries for the world field.

The Mission Boards of our Church are making insistent appeals for more and better qualified workers. This Board is recreant to her trust if she fail to use every effort at her command to assist in supplying the demand. The Secretaries of the Home Board are concerned over the number of vacant rural pulpits throughout the West. Those acquainted with urban conditions point to the large number of important pulpits vacant in our cities. The generalship of the Foreign Board, great as it is, cannot command enough men to man the outposts of the Church militant.

Pursuant to this demand, old yet ever new, this Board has sent out a comprehensive questionnaire to every pastor, asking for names of young men who might be led to consider the call to the ministry. Several thousand names are now on file, a system of correspondence having been inaugurated which has already achieved gratifying results.

Foreign-speaking Candidates.—The Board has continued its special relations with the two Seminaries caring especially for ministerial candidates of foreign speech, exhibits of whose operations are found elsewhere in this Report. One hundred and thirty-eight foreign-speaking candidates have been aided as follows: 46 Germans, 3 Spanish, 3 Cubans, 16 Porto Ricans, 16 Bohemians, 11 Hungarians, 11 Italians, 6 Hebrews, 10 Ruthenians, 5 Mexicans, 2 Syrians, 3 Slovaks, 1 Russian, 1 Moravian, 1 Hollander, 2 Japanese, 1 from Republic of Monaco. Fifty-five colored candidates have also received the usual aid.

According to the action of the Assembly, the Board has been clothed with special discretionary powers in the matter of additional aid to foreign-speaking candidates for the purpose of assisting the Seminaries to defray the extra cost of tuition for the training of students in their native tongues. It must be admitted that with all the attention hitherto paid to the training of these men, the work is as yet in an experimental stage and the results are not always satisfactory. It must be remembered that the weeding out process in the case of foreign-speaking candidates is to be commended rather than criticised, and that it is far better for a seminary to drop unworthy men than to allow them to enter the ranks of the ministry and create a scandal later on. Nevertheless, it is a matter of regret that a larger proportion of failures occur among foreign-speaking candidates than among our American students. Presbyteries are urged to observe the greatest caution in their relations to young men of foreign nationality. It would appear to be far better to have a few excellent workers than many ill-conditioned and unworthy ones.

Prize Scholarships.—The Newberry Scholarship has been offered to Lane Seminary, and competitive examinations for the same will be held in the fall of the present year. This scholarship permits of graduate study abroad and yields $900.

The winner of the Secretary's Scholarship, Mr. William Harberts, will complete his course by a year of graduate study in a European university approved by the Board.

The Mutchmore Scholarship has been offered to the members of the Middle Class of Louisville Seminary. Competitive examinations will be held the coming fall. This scholarship is granted every three years and yields $525, permitting the successful candidate a year of post-graduate study either in this country or abroad.

The David Stewart Banks Scholarship, assigned in 1907-'08 to H. H. Bergen, of the Presbytery of Huntingdon, yielding $125 a year, will be open for assignment in 1912-'13 after Mr. Bergen's completion of his seminary course.

The Daniel W. Poor Fund and the Jacobs Fund are being administered by the Board according to the provisions laid down by the legatees.

NEW FEATURES OF THE BOARD'S WORK.

The card catalogue of possible candidates creates an extensive field for cultivation. Pastors give the names of young men in business or in school, furnishing such information as will guide the Secretaries of the Board in approaching these young men through the printed page or through personal correspondence. This catalogue is being constantly freshened by the addition of new names and information.

The attention of theological seminaries is earnestly directed toward this catalogue of names. It will prove valuable to registrars who desire to enlarge their mailing list.

Prize Essays.—Last year the Board offered four prizes for the four best sermons or addresses on "The Claims and Attractions of the Gospel Ministry Upon Young Men of Strength with Especial Reference to the Needs of our Times." The Rev. Hugh T. Kerr, D.D., pastor of the Fullerton Avenue Church, of Chicago, Ill., was awarded the first prize for his contribution, "Manhood and the Ministry." The Rev. James Beveridge Lee, D.D., pastor of St. Paul's Church, Philadelphia, who submitted a sermon on "The College Man and the Ministry," was awarded second prize. "Spiritual Leadership for the New Age," by the Rev. Samuel Sharp, of Exeter, Ontario, was given third place, while the Rev. J. W. Harvey, of California, Pa., received the fourth prize for his sermon, entitled "The Need, the Call, and the Opportunity of the Christian Ministry."

These essays have been printed in an attractive and uniform edition, and are being widely disseminated throughout the Church. Pastors desiring to use the series for general distribution will be given the cost price.

In addition to the above, the following leaflets have been prepared:

College Visitation Plan.—The joint arrangement between the Board and the Assembly's Evangelistic Committee, whereby a comprehensive scheme of visitation to our Presbyterian colleges was put into operation during the year, proved to be not only a feasible measure, but, under the blessing of God, achieved results far exceeding the most sanguine expectations. The cordial support of the college authorities was secured, and pastors of exceptional ability as leaders qualified to deal with conditions in our colleges lent themselves freely and heartily to the work.

The object of the campaign was to bring every student face to face with the claims of Christ as Saviour and Lord, and secure commitment to His service; to present the claims and opportunities of the ministry and the missionary life; to counsel students with respect to the life calling for which they are best fitted, according to the wisest methods.

The approach to the student mind and heart has been achieved through public addresses, evangelistic and inspirational, and through conferences by which the student bodies were broken up into homogeneous groups arranged according to sex, class or proposed vocation. The representatives had specified hours for this purpose in rooms set apart, and occupied much of the day-time, during their visits, to vocation counseling and religious conference with inquiring students.

No statistics can tell the story of this remarkable movement. The colleges have, however, reported very fully as far as reports can set forth the facts.

Forty-two colleges co-operated, their names and those of the visiting representative following:

The colleges generally held their meetings in February in connection with the observance of the General Assembly's Day of Prayer for Colleges, February 9. Two hundred and four evangelistic addresses and sixty-five educational and vocational addresses were given. Personal conference with individual students was emphasized in the plan, and as the result we are happy to record the fact that seventytwo hours in the aggregate were given to group conferences, and one hundred and ninety-five hours devoted to personal counseling. hundred and fifty-four decisions were rendered for the Christian life. Eleven young people decided to devote their lives to missionary service, and thirty-six young men were led to decide in behalf of the Christian ministry. Plans are already being laid to make the meetings of next winter still more effective by a more thoroughgoing preparation and closer co-operation with the college Christian Associations. It is hoped also that it may be found feasible to introduce this effort into the State universities. Did space permit, we would be glad to quote from letters of our representatives, describing the outpourings of grace attending their efforts, and the personal blessings they experienced in the work. The college faculties and the visiting speakers unite in unqualified commendation of the plan, regarding it on the whole as perhaps the most significant expression of religious awakening in the colleges during the past few years.

Loans and Delinquents.—There has never been a system of following up candidates who have received the Board's scholarships, and have thereafter demitted the ministry of our Church. It has been left to the honor of such men to refund principal and interest, but only a small percentage of those who should have returned their scholarship aid have seen fit to make a refund. The Board has, within the year, felt impelled by a strong sense of duty to look more carefully after these refunds, and to insist more firmly upon the carrying out of contract obligations. To this end there has been installed a thorough system of following up delinquents, applied to all those who have received aid from the Board within the past ten The total number of such recorded and filed is 204. Out of this number we are in communication with eighty men and are endeavoring to locate and hear from the remainder. Sixty-four of the eighty have replied favorably, not including ministers and missionaries who have entered other denominations. With reference to the latter class. it is understood that they will be left upon this list, but will not be pressed for refunds. If, however, at any time they feel able and inclined to return their scholarship aid, the Board shall be glad to receive it. The amount owing the Board by the sixty-four men, who have promised to refund, is about $12,000. This does not include about $600 received from nine delinquents since October 1, but does include $731 of notes given by four men since October 1, 1910. Four men have canceled their accounts within the past few months.

Of the 843 candidates aided last year, 54 are not continuing their studies for the ministry. A certain percentage will, of course, resume their studies in due time, but the majority are lost to the ministry of the Church. It is a matter of regret that the Presbyteries do not generally regard it as important to advise the Board of their action in dropping candidates, and many of them do not keep in close touch with men under their care. Education Committees apparently take it for granted that if a candidate fails to renew his application it is because he finds it unnecessary, from a financial point of view, whereas the real reason may be his turning aside from the ministry. Many of our Educational Committees cannot give the Board reasons why their men do not reapply. We have, however, followed up the fifty-four who were aided last year and are not continuing their studies for the ministry this year, the total amount involved being nearly $11,000.

The Board is convinced that it is suffering too high a percentage of loss and that while it is necessary to be sensitive as to the percentage of cost of administration, it is necessary to be equally sensitive as to percentage of loss in the Church's investments in candidates. We feel that the return of the money is of incidental importance to the measure of justice that is due to the man as well as to the Board.

We, therefore, deem it necessary to request Presbyteries most earnestly, especially those in Home Mission territory, where the exigencies of the situation place a premium upon haste rather than upon thoroughness, to guard themselves against receiving and recommending candidates who have not fair prospects of pursuing their course of preparation for the ministry, and of usefulness after entering the same.

The Board has always maintained the position, in conformity with the judgment of the Church, that not only is the minister worthy of his hire, but the candidate has a right to receive gratuitous aid from the Church and that scholarship grants should be given upon proof of fitness, as parents expect to provide for their children without a return of moneys invested.

Nevertheless, the Board believes that there should be a larger recognition of the desire expressed by candidates from time to time for loans rather than for grants outright. Other denominations recognize the loan principle as equally valid with that of giving grants. The Methodist Board of Education confines its help to loans, and each year receives thousands of dollars in refunds from those who gladly take advantage of this assistance.

In conformity with the above considerations the Board of Education has taken the following action, upon which it desires the approval of the General Assembly:

"That the Board urge upon the Presbyteries the necessity of having their Committees on Education follow up the men who are under the care of this Board, to the end that after their ordination, and especially for the first five years of their ministry, it may be possible for this Board to keep in communication with them.

"That the Presbyteries be urged to take all proper measures to test the purpose and persistence of candidates under the care of this Board, seeing that it appears that young men often become careless in their financial relations with this Board, and that, in case there is any serious falling away from their original earnestness, or indeed a turning away from the ministry altogether, this Board shall be at once put into possession of that fact.

"That on the face of the paper in which the questions are prepared for the candidates, a clear alternative choice be offered to the candidate between taking a loan from the Board and accepting a grant, it being understood, however, that this shall be done in such a manner and shall in every case be so put before the Church and the public that there shall be no reflection upon or discrimination against the candidates who choose the grant."

Aid for Medical Students.—From time to time the attention of the Board has been directed to the fact that the Church does not appear to encourage the recruiting of her youth for service as medical missionaries by granting them aid similar to that granted to candidates for the ministry. The Board has taken the position that whenever the Board of Foreign Missions would be inclined to recommend the aiding of medical students preparing for mission fields we would consider the matter sympathetically and endeavor to meet the demand. We are now in receipt of assurances from the Board of Foreign Missions to the effect that the need for maintaining the supply of medical missionaries is so great that a conservative plan for assisting them while in medical college might be a most desirable method of stimulating the supply. While this Board has no special funds for inaugurating such a policy, it believes that the Church will respond to appeals in behalf of needy candidates for the medical mission fields. fore recommends to the Assembly the favorable consideration of the following policy;

"There shall be added to the rules of this Board a section dealing with the matter of aid to medical students preparing for the mission-field as follows:

"That the Board of Education shall receive and aid, through loan or grant, as may be agreed upon, certain medical students pursuing a course of preparation for service under the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., according to the following conditions:

"A. The candidate must be a graduate of an accredited High School or Academy, and shall have had, in addition thereto, an equivalent of two years in college prior to his matriculation in an accredited medical college.

"B. The candidate must be a member of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., or of a closely related body, for at least one year prior to his receiving aid, and shall be recommended by the Session of his church after it shall have examined him as to his piety, his motives for entering the field of medical missions, his talents, his health, his promise of practical efficiency, and his freedom from expensive and injurious habits. This Sessional recommendation shall be approved by the Committee on Education of the Presbytery to which the church of which the candidate is a member belongs.

"C. The candidate must meet such requirements as the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church chooses to impose upon him at this stage in his preparation. No medical student shall be aided by this Board who is not unqualifiedly approved by the Board of Foreign Missions. It is, however, distinctly understood that the Board of Foreign Missions is under no more obligation to appoint such candidate after graduation from medical college than if he had been unaided by the Board of Education.

"D. Application blanks will be furnished by the Board of Education to the candidate, who will see that they are properly made out, first by the Session, then approved by his Presbyterial Committee on Education, after which they are to be forwarded to the Board of Foreign Missions for its approval. The application then passed upon by the Foreign Mission Board shall be forwarded to the Board of Education for its consideration. The recommendation of the Board of Foreign Missions imposes no obligation upon the Board of Education to accept any candidate for aid.

"E. In case a medical student thus aided is refused appointment by the Foreign Board after his graduation, or in case he abandons his purpose of entering the foreign field as a medical missionary, all moneys granted by the Board of Education shall be by him refunded to the Board with interest." (Board action, April 17, 1911.)

Training Schools for Lay Workers.—In conformity with the instructions of the last General Assembly relative to the responsibility of this Board in the promotion of the interests of Presbyterian Training Schools for Lay Workers, this Board conferred with the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work, to which similar instructions had been given by the last Assembly, resulting in a determination to hold a conference under the joint auspices of the This Conference was held on December 29, 1910, to two Boards. which had been invited the representatives of theological seminaries. The results of this Conference are embodied in a Special Report appended herewith, to which the attention of the Assembly is especially directed. The Board believes that it has carried out the spirit of the Assembly's instructions in drafting this Report, which will be printed separately, and distributed to those sections of the Church more intimately concerned with this important question.

It will be seen in the answer of the Board to the requests contained in the resolutions adopted at this Conference, that we will endeavor to secure a hearing for the representatives of Training Schools at the present Assembly, and do all within our power to promote their general interests. Whenever the Church is disposed to make the Board a channel for gifts to such institutions, we shall be glad to create a department of Training Schools. But no moneys have passed through the Board's treasury this year for this purpose, and we would not deem it expedient to apply any of the current or permanent funds of the Board to this work, either for scholarships or maintenance of institutions. The Board's work is becoming more highly differentiated with the creation of special departments, occasioning a larger expense for administration in the offices of both the Secretaries and the Treasurer. The relation of the trained lav worker to the ordained ministry is a delicate one, and our seminaries are questioning the advisability of combining the training of lay workers with that for the ministry. The Board finds itself perplexed by such questions, and uncertain as to its powers in the matter of an active work in behalf of such schools. It will, however, accept such instructions as the Assembly, in its wisdom, shall see fit to give.

Work for Presbyterian Students at State Educational Institutions.

The Church enters the State University with the same motive that prompts it to found and maintain Christian Colleges; to vitalize education with the Christian spirit and to bring each student face to face with Jesus Christ.

The Size of the Task.—Several causes have united in producing a rapid growth in State-supported schools of higher learning.

The steadily increasing importance of the public high school is one of these causes. The Commissioner of Education for the United States reported in 1890 the number of public high schools as 2,526, with a student enrollment of 202,963; in 1909 he reported the number of public high schools as 9,317, with a student enrollment of 881,273.

In 1890 he reported 1,632 privately endowed secondary schools, with a student enrollment of 94,931; and in 1909 he reports only 1,301 private academies, with a student enrollment of 93,656. The State University is the logical completion of the public school system, so that an increase in the public schools necessarily tends to an increase in the State Universities.

Another cause for this rapid growth is the fact that the States have developed schools and departments of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, and that the Universities have greatly strengthened the graduate and professional departments—schools and departments that do not duplicate or compete with the work of the Christian Colleges.

Students from these departments and schools will be the leaders in their various professions. The churches have made a mistake in neglecting their religious training, a mistake that has caused the loss to the Church and to Christian service of thousands of our brightest young men and women. Four years in the life of the student outside the Church, at a time when he is forming his habits of thought and of life and changing his point of view regarding many fundamental questions, is sufficient to break his interest in the Church and in things spiritual.

It is well to remember that these State Universities are no more irreligious than the States that support them, but it is also a fact that as they increase in size the student body becomes more complex, and religious instruction becomes more and more difficult, until in the large and fully developed State University it is practically excluded. Most of the State Universities were founded by Christian men. As long as the number of students was small, chapel prayers were maintained and religious instruction given without objection. This condition prevails in many of the smaller Universities at present, but with growth there comes the inevitable secularization.

Education without religion is defective. When the religious element cannot be supplied by the University the responsibility rests with the churches.

There are in the United States eighty-one State Universities and and other State-aided institutions of higher education, with a total student enrollment for the year 1909-'10 of 109,000.

An idea of the size and rapid growth of these can be seen in the following table:

Presbyterian Students.—The Board, in co-operation with the several Synods, is now maintaining religious work in twelve State Universities. The following table gives the number of Presbyterian students in each of these, and, as illustrating the size of the University, it gives the cost for maintenance for the year 1909–'10, together with the total working income for the same year:

Work has been maintained in the first five Universities of the above list for from two to twenty years. New work was begun during the past year in the five Universities of Ohio, Iowa, Washington, Oklahoma and Kentucky. In Ohio and Iowa with University pastors giving full time to the work, in the other three with student assistants giving part time. There are, in addition to the above twelve, sixteen Universities each large enough to warrant the employment of a University pastor.

It should be said that in some of the Universities a religious census is taken by the Registrar. In others, the number of Presbyterian students is ascertained unofficially.

The Accepted Type of Work.—On December 19, 1910, the Board adopted the following resolution:

- . "Whereas, The Board has had called to its attention the fact that various policies are in force in the different Synods in meeting the religious needs of Presbyterian students at State educational institutions, and
- "Whereas, The Board is, under the authority of the General Assembly, a co-operating agent with the various Synods in this particular work, therefore,
- "Resolved. That the Board, while recognizing the need of pursuing different policies based upon local conditions at each University centre, affirms its unalterable conviction that the personal work of the University pastor with the individual students is fundamental in this work, and that this pastoral care of students, leading up to contact with the local church, is absolutely necessary to the success of the movement and the spiritual welfare of the student body."

This work of Personal Counselor in Religion to University students requires men of the finest type. They must have true spiritual life and rare tact; they must be experts in the delicate and difficult task of the spiritual clinic, with wide experience of Christian grace in the active world. It is found by actual experience that students heartily welcome the counsel and help of these University pastors; and the results in conversions, in the strengthening of the Christian life, and in training for Christian service have been highly satisfactory.

Other Types of Work.—The character of work outlined above has been adopted after careful study of other proposed plans:

- 1. The affiliated Church College is an attempt to maintain a Christian College adjoining the University. This is not now practicable in many States, because both the Colleges and the Universities are established, and it is too late to change the location of either.
- 2. The Guild Hall.—The majority of Universities have adequate guild hall facilities in the Association buildings. A series of denominational guild halls separate from the city churches would be an expensive duplication of equipment. Such detached guild halls are in danger of overemphasizing the social and entertainment features, and of absorbing time and interest of the students that ought to go to the Church and to active social service in the community.

Experience has shown that it is best to provide class and social rooms in the churches that the students may become accustomed to, and have the benefit of, the ordinary church life of the community. It is easier to interest students in student associations, but they are apt to lose much in their religious life through this segregation.

- 3. The Church Dormitory.—In a few University centres some churches have erected dormitories that have met with more or less success. The management of dormitories should, however, generally belong to the University rather than to the church. Larger returns in the lives of the students can be obtained by using the money and labor in strengthening the work of the churches in the community about the University, and in providing personal counselors.
- 4. Instruction by Pastors in the University.—Bible chairs maintained by churches are doing great good in some Universities. Where the instruction is of University grade, equal to that given by the best men of the faculty, it commands the respect of the students. When there is enough money to adequately support these chairs, they should be established, and in a few years we can expect to have at several Universities, schools of practical religion maintained by the churches. But it is a mistake to begin such expensive work for the instruction of a comparatively small number of students until the Church is able to provide pastoral care for all the students. The school of religion will be the natural development of the plan for pastoral care.

5. Interdenominational Work through the Christian Associations.— The Christian Associations are at work in practically all the Colleges and Universities of America. With the growth of the Universities, it has been increasingly difficult for the Associations to keep the students in active relation with the churches. In the larger Universities the work the churches are now beginning is needed not only for the good of the individual students, but for the religious life and power of the student Associations. There need be no conflict, but, on the contrary, there is opportunity for the most effective co-operation between the churches and Associations.

President Sparks, of Pennsylvania State College, states the case admirably: "The Christian Association of the Pennsylvania State College, at present having a membership of 1,287 students, is performing a distinct service in Bible study, in bringing forceful speakers to the College, and is looking after the fellow who is not doing himself justice either in college work or in manner of living. It is also active in social service to the residents of the community.

"All this I conceive to be the legitimate field of college Association work; but it cannot replace the church in the life of the young man away from home for perhaps the first time, face to face with life, and encountering the apparently iconoclastic force of scientific truth. He especially needs his church and the faith of his parents upon which he may lean until he is able to decide for himself and to reconcile science and faith."

The Presidents and members of the faculties have shown the deepest interest in, and appreciation for, the work of our University pastors. Without a single exception they heartily commend the men and approve the methods employed.

The best part of this work cannot be reported. It is quiet and fundamental; its results show in the character and lives of students who scatter throughout the country. This work is not building institutions at the Universities, but it is powerfully contributing to the life and usefulness of all sorts of institutions for social betterment.

The majority of students enter the Universities as Christians. The University pastor is there to guide them through their new doubts and temptations, and to translate their new knowledge into terms of faith and life. And for the many who are not Christians, they are there to point the way. The work begins new each college year, and at the end of the year the results permeate to the ends of the earth for the healing of the nations.

Field Work.—The Secretary for University Work has, during the past year, traveled 29,500 miles within a limited territory, aiding in the development of work previously undertaken and in beginning new work. He reached five Synods, three Presbyteries, forty-one churches, sixteen universities and colleges, and gave eighty addresses upon subjects related to the religious life of students.

The University Secretary has devoted the greater part of his time to the financial side of the work, having given many weeks to the solution of the financial situation in the Synod of Iowa, the Synods of Nebraska, Ohio and Wisconsin having also required considerable attention in the matter of raising the salaries of the University pastors. The Board has entered into special relations with certain Synods, having agreed to act as trustee and treasurer for all funds raised for University work. Churches and individuals giving money for this work send the same either direct to the Treasurer of the Board or to the local treasurer of Synod's Committee, who forwards sums from time to time accompanied by lists of contributing churches and individuals. By this method a complete and permanent record is kept of moneys raised for this work. The Synods of Ohio, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska and California have taken action making the Board their treasurer for this particular work.

Work done in Field.—

Pennsylvania.—The Rev. Samuel Martin, University pastor, State College Church, State College, Pa. In accordance with the action of the Synod of Pennsylvania, the Board has entered into an agreement to take charge of the raising of a fund of $55,000 to go toward the erection and maintenance of a new Presbyterian church at this important educational centre where, out of 1,800 students there are 400 Presbyterian young men. Twenty-five thousand dollars of the above amount is to be held in trust by the Board for endowment purposes, and the remainder is to be added to $20,000 already subscribed by the local Presbyterian church.

The Board's Secretaries are now engaged in this task, and it is hoped that the Presbyterians of Pennsylvania will subscribe with sufficient liberality to warrant the breaking of ground for the new building within the present year.

Illinois.—Rev. Martin E. Anderson, University pastor. During the early part of the year the $60,000 endowment fund was completed, and Mr. Anderson has given part of his time to the work of securing money for the erection of a University chapel. He has continued his preaching to a company of students and professors each Sunday, using one of the University buildings until the new chapel is completed. He has maintained regular prayer meetings each week for students, and reached a very large number of students in personal counsel Kansas.—Rev. Francis A. Wilber, D.D. University pastor. October 8, 1910, Westminster Hall, the gift of Mr. W. W. Cockins, of Lawrence, was dedicated, the address being given by Dr. Cochran, Secretary of the Board. Westminster Hall is the home for the University pastor and his family and the centre for the Westminster Association for Biblical Instruction. It contains well-appointed classrooms. There were 215 students enrolled in these Bible classes taught by Dr. and Mrs. Wilber and Miss Pauline Sage.

Michigan.—Rev. J. Leslie French, Ph.D., University pastor. Dr. and Mrs. French have entertained a large number of the students in their new home acquired last year. The instruction in the Bible has been maintained in the University, as well as in the church, and students have been organized in a large number of committees, directed in social work, hospitals, jails and similar institutions, and have engaged in preaching and teaching in nearby churches and schoolhouses. The local church has been without a minister, thus increasing the work of the University pastor. Distinct progress has been made through the year.

Wisconsin.—Rev. Matthew G. Allison, University pastor. During the last two years the University enrollment has grown 23 per cent. Mr. Allison devotes himself to the work of personal counselor with this constantly increasing number of students, and uses Christ Presbyterian Church at Madison as the centre of his work. There has been a large number of conversions, and many students have united with the church on confession of faith, by letter and by a form of student affiliate membership.

A ministerial club has been organized of students studying for the Christian ministry, holding regular meetings throughout the year. Many of these men are doing effective missionary work in churches and schoolhouses near by. There are five University pastors at Wisconsin. By a definite plan of co-operation they greatly aid each other. They have produced a profound effect for good upon the life of the University.

Nebraska.—Rev. Dean Richmond Leland, Ph.D., University pastor. Dr. Leland is completing his second year of work. He confines himself to the work of a personal counselor, finding time for Bible teaching on Sunday and for occasional sermons. There is one student in the University for every 300 of population in the State. To vitalize the lives of even a few hundred of these students each year is a task of far-reaching importance, and this is what Dr. Leland is doing for many hundreds. The appreciation of his work is shown in the fact that he was this year elected Chaplain of the University Cadets.

There is immediate need of a suitable home for the University pastor located near the University campus, and the Synod of Nebraska has authorized the canvass for funds for the purchase of such a home. It is expected to complete the manse during the coming year, the Hon. William Jennings Bryan having made the first contribution to this fund.

Colorado.—Rev. J. Wilson Currens, Ph.D., University pastor. Dr. Currens continues his teaching in the University and in Bible classes of the church, giving a large part of his time to the work of personal counselor. A large number of the students have dedicated their lives to Christian service, several having offered themselves for work in the foreign field.

Arkansas.—Miss Lyta A. Davis, for some time Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is now Secretary for work centering in the Presbyterian Church. She has a number of classes in the Bible and religious subjects, and has deeply affected the lives of a number of students who are now preparing themselves for Christian service. The value of her work grows each year.

Ohio.—The Rev. William Houston, University pastor. Mr. Houston was for some time pastor of the church in Mt. Gilead, Ohio. He began work at the University in Columbus in September, 1910. He devotes himself to the work of personal counselor for a very large number of students, and uses the several churches of the city as centres for this work. The results have more than met the expectations of those who have been personally interested in the work.

Iowa.—Rev. Frank M. Fox, D.D., University pastor. Dr. Fox was for some time pastor of the Third Church at Fort Wayne, Ind., and came to his new work at Iowa University in November, 1910. Mrs. Fox, when Secretary for the Woman's Board of the Northwest, founded the Westminster Guild for young women. Since November Dr. and Mrs. Fox have made a large place for themselves in the life of the University. A number of students have united with the Church on confession of faith, and several have definitely decided upon Christian service in the ministry and on the foreign field. A suitable home near the University campus is an imperative need.

Kentucky.—By joint action of the two Synods of Kentucky, Mr. Charles W. Anderson, a candidate of the Presbyterian ministry, has been employed as student assistant to the three churches of Lexington for work among the students in the University. He began work April 1, 1911, and the money is provided for supporting the work for the year. The students are about equally divided between the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. and the Presbyterian Church U. S., and the work is receiving the cordial co-operation of the two Synods and the two Boards.

Washington.—During the year the Board has co-operated with the Synod of Washington in providing support for a student assistant for the pastor of University Church. There are 300 Presbyterian students, about 16 per cent. of the total enrollment. The student assistant is developing work that will grow with the growth of the University and will soon demand a pastor giving full time.

Oklahoma.—Rev. C. E. Kircher, D.D., pastor University Church. There were this year 102 Presbyterian students in attendance, or 15 per cent. of the total enrollment. The University is young, but vigorous and steadily growing. The Board this year co-operated with the Synod of Oklahoma in employing a student assistant for the University Church. The work is being well directed, and will increase in importance as the University grows in size.

WORK IN THE SOUTH AND SOUTHWEST.

The last Assembly instructed the Board "in consultation with the Body created by the General Assembly for the purpose of administering theological education in the South and Southwest, to perfect measures looking to the care and training of students coming from that region." Desirous, therefore, of interpreting such action in the broadest and most sympathetic way, the Board took the following action at its meeting October 24:

"The services of the Assistant Secretary, the Rev. W. J. Darby. D.D., are according to the deliverance of the General Assembly of 1910, given to the Body created by the General Assembly for the purpose of administering theological education in the South and Southwest (Lane-Lebanon Alliance) to perfect measures looking to the care and training of students coming from that region."

Early in the year the Rev. Dr. Darby entered upon a vigorous campaign for the purpose of discharging the Lebanon side of the arrangement known as the Lane-Lebanon Alliance. A large amount of printed matter was issued and distributed throughout the South and Southwest. Fourteen candidates were provided for through contributions from churches and individuals. The moneys for this purpose coming to the Board have passed through its treasury and been returned to Dr. Clarke, the local treasurer of the Alliance.

Eleven of our own Synods, three Synods of the Colored Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and one Synod of the Southern Presbyterian Church were visited by Dr. Darby during the year. He also presented the cause of the Board at eleven Presbyteries, addressed audiences at twenty-two Educational Institutions, spoke on Ministerial Education at eight Conventions and addressed ten church congregations.

The Assistant Secretary has spent considerable time in studying the problem of a trained ministry for Presbyterian negroes in the three branches of the Church (the Church in the U. S. A., the Church in the U. S. and the Colored Cumberland Church). It is sincerely hoped that the friends of the leaders in the three denominations may, through close co-operation, effect some working arrangement whereby the spiritual interests of our colored brethren may be met more adequately and a more efficiently trained ministry among them be speedily secured.

Various considerations prompt the Board to question the advisability of aiding a work that falls beyond the bounds of our branch of the Presbyterian Church. It further submits that the Board of Freedmen appears to be the more logical agency for the prosecution of this particular task. It has therefore taken action to the following effect:

"It is the sense of the Board that the Assembly, if in its wisdom the way be clear, should assign the work among the negroes of the 'Colored Cumberland Presbyterian Church' to the Board for Work Among Freedmen, inasmuch as it is obvious that this work falls more naturally within the field of that work than under that of this Board."

DAY OF PRAYER.

It is recommended that the Thursday immediately preceding the second Sunday of February, 1912, the 8th, be observed by the Church in the churches and schools as a Day of Prayer for Colleges and Universities.

SPECIAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF 1911,

CONCERNING

TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR LAY WORKERS.

CONFERENCE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF PRESBYTERIAN TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR LAY WORKERS,

HELD UNDER THE JOINT AUSPICES OF

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION AND THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION AND SABBATH SCHOOL WORK.

With new conditions facing the Church, as it adapts itself to the changing order, we find an increasing demand for trained lay workers, both men and women. The highly organized activities of the modern church make lay activity as inevitable as it is gratifying. Immense stores of power are to be drawn upon when the membership of the Church undertakes seriously the missionary work of the Church, and develops trained leadership in all branches of Christian activity.

Louder and more insistent calls are being heard for thoroughly equipped Sunday-school workers—superintendents and teachers, national and State secretaries and field workers; in the churches, religious work directors, pastors' assistants and parish visitors; in colleges, and seminaries as teachers of the Bible pedagogy and sociology; in the field at home and abroad as colporteurs, lay evangelists and social workers; and in our cities as settlement workers, secretaries and agents of charity organizations and societies for civic betterment.

The imperative need of developing a trained force of church workers outside the ranks of the ordained ministry has resulted in the establishing of a number of Training Schools for women, located in, or contiguous to, the great cities of our country.

The Training Schools more or less closely related to the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., are located in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, Coraopolis and Nashville. The first and last named are controlled by a Board of Directors chosen from two or more branches of the Presbyterian family, the others being directly connected with the Presbyteries of Baltimore, Chicago and Pittsburgh, respectively.

A number of our colleges have established Bible departments which are, to a certain extent, training schools for lay workers. Most of the young people, however, in attendance upon these departments either do not intend to spend their lives in church work, or, if they do, anticipate going elsewhere for a more thorough training in church work. One school, however, the Florence H. Severance Bible and Missionary Training School, a department of Wooster University, Wooster, Ohio, is so thoroughly organized and well equipped as to fall into the class of Training Schools for Lay Workers. It is open to both men and women.

The four General Assemblies prior to the present meeting took action commending the interests of such schools to the Board of Education, which was requested to "tender its services to churches and individuals in the receiving and forwarding of designated offerings for such institutions, or departments of institutions, for the training of Lay Workers, and that said institutions report to the Board annually offerings received direct for their work, which reports shall be incorporated in the Annual Report of the General Assembly."*

In view also of the action by the Assembly of 1910, calling the attention of the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work to the need of proper training of Lay Workers for Church and Sunday School,† the two Boards agreed that they could best promote the interests of the Presbyterian Training Schools by calling a conference of their representatives, which was accordingly done, the Conference being held on December 29 and 30, 1910, at Philadelphia.

The representatives of Theological Seminaries were also invited to be present in view of the agitation relative to the establishing of training courses for Lay Workers in Theological Seminaries.

Five Training Schools, five Theological Seminaries and three Boards were represented as follows: the Rev. William H. Roberts, D.D., LL.D., Miss Edith Earle Stone, Mrs. A. R. Ramsay, School for Christian Workers, Philadelphia; the Rev. John S. Conning, D.D., Deaconess Home and Training School of Baltimore, Md.; the Rev. Alexander Patterson, D.D., Presbyterian Training School, Chicago; the Rev. George C. Bachman, D.D., Bible Training School for Christian Workers, Nashville; the Rev. VacLav Losa, Training School for Christian Workers among Foreigners, Coraopolis; Professor John Davis, Princeton Theological Seminary; President James A. Kelso, D.D., Western Theological Seminary; the Rev. William H. Oxtoby, D.D., McCormick Theological Seminary; the Rev. Professor F. W. Jackson, German Theological School of Newark; President H. L. McCrorey, D.D., Biddle University (Theological Department); the Rev. Alexander Henry, D.D., Secretary of the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work; the Rev. E. Morris Fergusson, the Rev. Joseph Wilson Cochran, D.D., Secretary Board of Education; Rev. H. C. Minton, D.D., LL.D., Mr. Joseph E. McAfee, Board of Home Missions.

The discussion was confined to three main lines of thought:

- I. The Training School in its Individual Life.
- II. Training Schools as related to each other.
- III. Training Schools as related to the Church at large.

Reports were received from the various schools in substance as follows:

1. Philadelphia School for Christian Workers of the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches.—This school was begun in 1907 and originated in the earnest desire of a number of ministers and ruling elders in the city of Philadelphia for a Training School for Lay Workers, both male and female. The purpose was and is to give such preparation for service as is furnished in the Deaconess Home and Training School of Baltimore. The school was at first under the care of a Committee of Management, composed of thirty persons, ministers and ruling elders of the several Presbyterian and Reformed Churches of the City of Philadelphia and the suburbs. The constituency of the five Christian denominations represented in the school numbers about 200,000 persons, counting communicant members, children and adherents. The institution was incorporated September 8, 1909. The Trustees number fifteen, and the officers are the Rev. William H. Roberts, D.D., President; Mr. George B. Kirkbride, Secretary, and Mr. Thomas R. Patton, Treasurer. There is connected with the School a Women's Auxiliary, of which Mrs. A. R. Ramsey is Chairman; Mrs. W. M. Kerr, Secretary, and Mrs. G. B. Kirkbride, Treasurer. The only department of the school as vet fully established is the Deaconess House, which is located at 933 Clinton Street, Philadelphia, and is in charge of Miss Edith Earle Stone, as Deaconess. The course of instruction covers two years, a Junior and a Senior year. The studies cover the Life of Christ, Biblical History, Church History, Christian Ethics, Christian Doctrine, Comparative Religion, Home, Foreign and City Missions, critical study of the Old and New Testaments, Church Government and Administration, Sociology, and in addition many practical courses such as Singing, Sewing, Nursing, etc. Students, in order to graduate are required to spend a fixed period of time as assistants at the Presbyterian Hospital. A majority of the students render a few hours' service each week in one of the Presbyterian or Reformed churches of the city. There are five (5) scholarships in the gift of the Trustees of the school, and it is hoped that the number will be largely increased. The number of students in the Junior class (1910) is eleven; four persons thus far have been graduated. The faculty numbers twenty-two persons in all, who serve without remuneration. The institution needs the financial support of the churches. Students can be had in increasing numbers, and the teachers are ready for service. Two hundred and fifty dollars will provide for a student for one year.

2. Presbyterian Deaconess Home and Training School, Baltimore.— This school began in 1903 as a training school for deaconesses and was incorporated in 1905 as "The Presbyterian Deaconess Home and Training School in the City of Baltimore." The demand for trained workers other than deaconesses has led to the extension of the course so as to provide for the training of missionaries and other church workers. The charter has recently been amended to provide for the training of men as well as women, the present title being "The Presbyterian Training School in the City of Baltimore." Seven ministers and five laymen constitute the Board. Through the generosity of Mrs. John S. Gilman, of Baltimore, the school possesses a substantial and commodious building, accommodating twenty students, A well-equipped building has been added, called the "Reed Memorial Guild House for Social Settlement Work." Students here have the opportunity of learning the most approved methods of meeting the needs of the vicinity, and applying principles of Christ to the complex problems of modern city life. There are sixteen graduates of this institution, some at work in foreign lands. Ten regular and three special students have been enrolled during the present school year, sixty-three having been in attendance upon the extension courses of the institution.

The regular courses of instruction provide for the training of evangelists, missionaries, deaconesses, pastors' assistants, church secretaries, directors of religious work and social workers. Christianization courses and extension lecturers supplement the regular course of training which extends over two years and is open to men and women alike. Instruction is free and the expenses do not exceed $159.

Class-room instruction is supplemented by opportunities for gaining experience in all forms of Christian activity. Students are required to spend two afternoons and two evenings each week in practical work. For deaconess training students are required to spend three months in a well-equipped hospital.

3. The Presbyterian Training School of Chicago was opened October 14, 1908, by the Church Extension Committee of the Chicago Presbytery. Its first class was graduated in May, 1909, consisting of five who had taken the full two years' course. Twice this number took partial courses. There are twelve students enrolled in the regular courses during the present year. Inadequate accommodations rendered it impossible to receive all who desired to attend.

Experienced pastors, missionaries and experts in Christian and philanthropic work have given the results of their experiences in the framing of courses in Systematic Bible Study, Christian Doctrine and Experience, Methods of Work, Church History and Polity, Sundayschool Work, Voice Culture and Scripture Reading, Elemental Therapeutics, Nursing, Sacred Music, Foreign Missions.

Each student is assigned to some church or mission where the fullest experience will be gained in every form of Christian service. The school claims to graduate experienced and tested workers who take the highest positions to the satisfaction of all concerned. The graduating class last year made over 10,000 calls and performed all kinds of missionary service.

Calls for workers come constantly from Western communities. In addition to the ordinary fields of activity, there are calls for the following: teachers for classes in sewing, cooking, manual arts, conducting boys' and girls' clubs, business assistants for churches, teachers for schools among exceptional populations, qualified laymen and women for special industrial and social service in foreign lands. The Chicago school's great need is for a building by which its students may enjoy better accommodation. At present it has only the use of class-rooms and is compelled to board students outside.

4. The Presbyterian Bible Training School of Nashville is a child of faith and prayer. It was chartered on January 9, 1909, by a number of laymen in the Presbyterian Churches, north and south, in Nashville. One resident student and nine outside students, all of them women, attended during the first year, besides a correspondence department in which about thirty-five students were enrolled. During the second year, 1909–10, seven resident students have been enrolled, the Senior Class numbering four.

The curriculum includes two courses in the Bible, a course in Sunday-school Work, Religious Pedagogy, the Psychology of Religion, Evangelism, Sociology, Church History and Doctrine, Home Missions and Foreign Missions. The School of Applied Christianity trains the student in personal work, house-to-house visitation, rescue work, work for children and the sick, prison work, Sunday-school work, Young People's Work, Church Methods.

A new and commodious building has been leased and it is hoped that friends will make possible the purchase of the same. Six scholar-ships by individuals and churches and a number of rooms have been furnished. A sustaining membership, whose annual fee is five dollars, has 300 contributors. The school charges no tuition and is entirely dependent upon voluntary offerings. One hour a day in the house and at least four hours per week in religious work outside are required.

Florence H. Severance Bible and Missionary Training School,*— The Florence H. Severance Bible and Missionary Training School is a department of the University of Wooster, the Synodical College of the Synod of Ohio. It is, however, much more than the Biblical Department of a Christian College. It has an endowment of $100,000. held in trust by the University for the use of the school. three years' course of study calling for fifteen hours of class work per week, and leading to a certificate granted by the University. these courses are all open as electives to candidates for the Bachelor's degree in the University and count on equal terms with other courses for such degree, they must be, and are, of college grade, and call for a high school course or its equivalent as a preparation. However, the fact that the University carries on a Preparatory Department makes it possible to receive students to the Bible School who have had less than a high school course and to allow them to make up their deficiencies of preparation in the Preparatory Department.

The purpose of the school is to train lay workers for effective Christian service along the various lines open to them,—as teachers in mission schools at home and on foreign mission soil, pastors' assistants, city missionaries, secretaries of Christian Associations, settlement workers, and the like. The theory of the school is that efficiency in these lines of service must be based, first, upon real and earnest personal religious life; second, upon thorough knowledge of the Bible and intelligent acquaintance with Christian truth; third, upon a sympathetic understanding of the history of the aggressive efforts of the Church for the extension of the kingdom of God in the past; and, fourth, on special training as to the best methods to be employed in these several lines of work.

Accordingly, the course of study has been devised to include the following great departments: first, the directly Biblical and theological; second, the historical; third, the directly practical; and, fourth, the supplementary. Under the first head come such subjects as Old Testament History, the Life of Christ, the Apostolic History; the interpretation of the Pauline Epistles, the Prophets, the Psalms, etc.; Christian Doctrine; the Development of Doctrine in the Old and New Testaments, and the Defense of Christianity. Under the second come History of New Testament Times, Church History, and History of Missions. Under the third come such matters as Methods of Bible Study and Teaching, Sunday-school Organization and Administration, Dealing with Inquirers; Practical Methods in Home and Foreign Missions, Pedagogy, Music, and Public Speaking, to the fourth may be assigned such subjects as Logic, Psychology, English Literature, Rhetoric and Sociology.

The curriculum is administered by a faculty of eleven members, exclusive of the Preparatory School faculty, from whom, as already indicated, the school derives valuable help in the case of students with insufficient preparation. Of the eleven teachers of collegiate rank, three—Professors Martin, Vance, and Wisner—give their whole time to the work of the school and the required courses in Bible for the general body of students in the University.

Exclusive of the required courses in Bible, the courses of the School are being elected by about one hundred and fifty candidates for the bachelor's degree. There is not a single course in the Bible School curriculum which does not attract more or fewer such students.

The attendance of regular students this year, that is to say, students all of whose work, or the major part of it, is in the Bible School, amounts to eight, of whom two are men and six women.

5. The Coraopolis Training School.—The School has been in successful operation throughout the school year.

It was organized for the purpose of preparing foreign-speaking girls of godly character and filled with the missionary spirit, for doing missionary and educative work among their own people.

From a small beginning, an experiment indeed, the School has grown in power and influence until at the present time there are students enrolled from Pennsylvania, Texas, Nebraska, Virginia, South Dakota and Europe. There are at the present time twenty students enrolled and all these are comfortably housed in the spacious School building which is owned by the Presbytery and thoroughly equipped for the accommodation and education of these mission girls. The cost of maintenance of the School this year has been $2,463.00.

This year for the first time in the history of the School among the students are enrolled three distinct linguistic families, Slavic, Magyar and Italian. The calls for the services of these trained workers are more than the School can supply. Surrounding Presbyteries and even distant States are sending tuition for the full course of three years, that they may have claim to a worker as soon as the number will be sufficient. In one case, a young lady is sent at congregational expense, a young member of the church, that she may be trained as a teacher in her own home church when her preparation is complete. Graduates from this School are now at work in Pennsylvania, Texas, Iowa, West Virginia, Missouri and Minnesota.

The course of study, covering a period of three years, is in English about equivalent to a town High School; covers a complete course of instruction as to the origin, character and purpose of the Bible. An elementary course of lectures is given on the fundamentals of Christian Theology. Music, both vocal and instrumental, elementary Kindergarten work, domestic science, economics, the care of the sick, both by lecture and in hospital service—all these are taught. In fact, this School aims to fit foreign-speaking girls in body, hand, head and heart for the largest possible sphere of useful activity among their own people who are in our midst in such vast numbers, who are, through ignorance of a better way, surrounded by all sorts of demoralizing influences and are so pitiably helpless. They give especial attention to the redemption of the children from this degradation of vice and squalor. In this way the door is open to the hearts of the parents.

Speaking to the subject, "The New Era in Lay Religious Activity," Mr. Joseph E. McAfee, of the Home Mission Board, said in part:

"The Church is facing a revolutionizing movement in lay activity. It has become a grave question in Church councils as to how this awakened lay consciousness may be given an opportunity to do things in a constructive way. The time has apparently come for a large introduction of a lay leadership in the conduct of the Church. Out of 10,000 churches 2,193 are pastorless. More than 20 per cent. of the pulpits of our Church are vacant. In Illinois one-quarter of our pulpits are vacant; in Ohio more than this. In Pennsylvania 184 vacant pulpits are reported. These facts trace back to the weakening of the outlying districts by the drift to the city. By some means a disciplined force must meet this situation and it is to be met by consolidation and comity among denominations.

"The time has passed when any church can afford to allow itself to depend upon the voluntary efforts of its laymen. There must be a trained laymanship.

"And one feature of this trained laymanship will be a church business manager. A great mass of details is worrying the life out of the pastors. They are seeking for men to take the burden of business management off their shoulders, but there are no training schools which furnish such men, no department in any theological seminary in what might be called church business management. A lay training course of this description would attract some of the finest laymen from our colleges."

The Rev. E. Morris Fergusson, of the Presbyterian Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work, spoke on "The Enlarged Field within the Local Church" as follows:

"While the discussion was going on, I was making a little memorandum of some of the specialties for which lay and trained service for men and women is called. The supply is going to create a demand. And that demand has only begun to be voiced as yet, as one church here and another there wakes up to the idea of and necessity for the service that is specialized and trained and that is worth paying for. Special parish service may be named under some such heads as these: Parish Visitor, Visiting Nurse, Kindergartner, Leader in Women's Work. It is a rare thing to find a woman likely to be elected president of a society who knows how to put a motion or to manage a meeting. It is a rare thing to find a woman who can plan a year's series of meetings.

"We need Department Superintendents in the Sunday-school—primary superintendents, junior superintendents, beginners' superintendents, etc., all along the line. For every one of these well-established departments of service we want a trained man or woman.

"We want a Sunday-school Teacher Trainer—somebody who can organize a class of Sunday-school teachers and carry them over a course, not merely teaching them things printed in the books and causing them to earn a diploma, but inspiring in them a love for study and developing in them powers and capacities that the Sunday-school stands ready to use. These are but samples of the steadily increasing demand for trained local service.

"How are you going to get these people? These deaconess homes, these schools, should consider themselves simple as the upper stratum of the educational enterprise. There are practically few men who are able to swing loose from bread-and-butter service and the care of dependent members of the family. The simple economic reason why you have more women studying than men is that the woman is not ordinarily and intrinsically the bread winner of the household, but the man is. Men cannot usually go to school, even when they get their schooling free. We must create a teaching service that will train men and women without taking them away from their gainful occupations; and when we have developed such a service as that, we will have not less but more use for those special schools that provide training for people who go 'in residence.' In many cases they will have students whose time is paid for by some church or other institution to which they will probably go back when their course is done.

"The Collegiate senior department of the Sunday-school, the four years that will follow the intermediate department, when that department has been fully supplied with the graded lessons now in course of preparation, affords a near prospect of giving to the stay-at-home student a course of specific Christian training and study. This consecutive graded study is being put into shape as rapidly as the committee in charge is able to handle the yearly courses. It is progress that we are able to report at this time; and within five years there will be a sufficient body of intermediate graduates flowing through the educational channels of the Church to equip your collegiate department with a Freshman Class of students all ready for a four years' course of lessons, nine months of major study in the Sundayschool hour and six months in two or three months' courses of night work in the fall and spring, constituting altogether a course that is easily within the reach of any interested young person. will lead at twenty-one to qualification for a degree which it will be the duty of the Church to have ready.

"I might add that, if you think this impracticable, just realize what might be done if, instead of equipping our classes with individual teachers, we were to set up a collegiate faculty consisting of the pastor as professor of Biblical studies, a well-trained public school teacher, at the price of a soprano singer, for professor of psychology and pedagogy, and one or two of these well-trained laymen and women who are within reach, to give some of the special courses. All the elements of success are in sight; the home-trained Christian worker is coming."

Under the subject of "The Curriculum of the Training School" the Rev. Alexander Patterson, of Chicago, outlined the two years' course in the English Bible, emphasizing also the courses in Christian Doctrine and in Church Methods. He urged the use of blackboards and the desirability of teaching workers facility in sketching, "but beyond all else the greatest work in the world is the work for boys. Save the boy and you save the man. If you have the man you have the family, you have the State, you have the Church. Our older boys are slipping out of Sunday-school. If some means can be devised by which you can approach the group of boys who go out of the backdoor of the Sunday-school you will be doing a work greater than any on earth."

Dr. Bachman called attention to the need of teaching Lay Workers how to deliver an address, how to read the Bible and hymns intelligently and interestingly.

Dr. Conning outlined the method by which students were given practical work. "We give each worker a city square. She is to report the number of people, their nationality, the number of children, the social and industrial conditions; the helpful and harmful influences, saloons, pleasure halls, moving-picture shows on the one hand; churches, settlements, schools and the like on the other. The neighborhood is dissected thoroughly.

"It is a serious mistake to turn over to secular organizations the work of the Church in caring for the poor. The Church ought to do this work. Stenography and typewriting are also taught in training for pastors' assistants."

Mrs. Ramsay told of the kindergarten courses in the Philadelphia school, sewing classes and domestic exercises and the singing lessons. "Everybody learns by doing. Our girls are sent for ten weeks every summer to the Presbyterian Hospital, where they learn many things during their course, which covers first aid to the injured and other necessary knowledge for the work of a deaconess. The hospital grants free board and tuition. Their second vacation is spent in some church institution like an orphanage. Such workers should become familiar with public and private institutions for the defective, dependent and criminal classes. We take our students to all sorts of institutions for the sake of allowing them to see what is already being done and to learn to co-operate with such institutions."

In discussing the place of the deaconess in church work, Dr. Conning dwelt upon the growing need for deaconesses, the demand coming from all parts of the country and being much larger than the supply.

Miss Stone, head deaconess at the Philadelphia School, spoke on "The Costume." "It is only a deep-seated conviction," she said, "that makes us willing to wear the distinctive dress. Any woman may visit her poorer sisters and is received, but the credit is given to her as an individual. When we go in our distinctive garb the idea is grasped that the Church has sent the visitor. I have often heard it said, 'I knew the Roman Catholic cared for their people, but I did not know Presbyterians did this.' The dress gives us far greater opportunities for service. Opportunities come on the streets, in the cars, everywhere, for people turn to us knowing that we can be trusted. Strangers ask help in seeking boarding houses and we have with us addresses all the time. Institutions are open to us at hours when the doors are closed to regular visitors. Besides, the economy of time in the use of a deaconess uniform is to be considered. I am able to change from my house to my street dress in from three to five minutes. It is also economical from a money point of view, for we are perfectly clad for all times and occasions. We are given the courtesy of the railroad and can travel at the same rates as the clergy.

"The dress is absolutely necessary as a protection. It is a great comfort when one is called into evil neighborhoods. I advise all women who do the work of deaconesses to adopt the dress of a deaconess."

The subject of the desirability of establishing denominational training schools was discussed and the consensus of opinion on the part of all who spoke was that such schools must be supported if the Church is to receive an adequate supply of workers loyal to her standards and polity. The best results in the experience of many pastors were not secured through workers from an undenominational school. If there is the Presbyterian work to be done by Presbyterians, why not have them trained under Presbyterian auspices?

Dr. Bachman asserted that the undenominational schools develop evangelists and lay workers frequently out of touch with their own churches. Candidates for home and foreign fields are not accepted freely from these schools.

Dr. William H. Roberts said:

"Because denominations exist, there should be denominational agencies wherever these can be used to the advantage first to the denomination and then to the general cause of Christianity. Why has our own Church always had a large part in everything that has been done for the Church Universal? Because it invariably has done its denominational duty and illustrated in its history the fact that the man who is a strong denominationalist is the man best fitted to do interdenominational work. Loyalty to a denomination is the foundation for loyalty to the larger work of the Church of Christ. Therefore, I believe in these denominational agencies in addition to those which are doing an interdenominational work."

Dr. Conning believed in denominational schools because the denomination can do the most for the Kingdom of God as a denomination. "Men and women are going to be powers in the world as their convictions are strong. Many interdenominational workers are found to have no strong convictions. They are ignorant of the things for which the Church stands and they are a disappointment as loyal and zealous workers. When a worker is trained under the Church's supervision he catches the Church spirit."

II. TRAINING SCHOOLS AS RELATED TO EACH OTHER.

The question of an organization of training schools having regular conferences for exchange of views and standardizing of the work was discussed. Dr. William H. Roberts said that he believed in the creation of an organization with constitution and by-laws, and a name, as, for instance, "The Associated Training Schools for Lay Workers." "I regard," he said, "the comparison of views as most important in connection with the developing movement for lay workers. We would then have opportunity to compare charters and by-laws and learn the best methods through an interchange of experiences. There is nothing more valuable for this purpose than the coming of men and women face to face and questioning one another.

"There ought to be an agreement upon a general scheme of instruction, a common viewpoint as to curriculum secured at as early a date as possible. Besides we should confer for the purpose of influencing public opinion and enlisting the support of people who would be interested in this work were it made known to them. We should also have a common understanding as to rules governing the reception of students and the service of graduates.

"As to the agency under whose auspices these Training Schools shall get together I believe the appropriate educational agencies of the Church, interested as they are in the practical needs for which these institutions are established, should be the supervising body relating the Church directly to these institutions in every helpful way.

"It is well, however, to keep in mind that religious institutions are more and more being incorporated, under the influence of lay opinion, on an independent basis, the Church being allowed to occupy a merely commendatory position. Such schools will insist that they are Presbyterian and then they will take good advice from ecclesiastical judicatories, but whether it is best to handle the institution through the Presbytery or a Synod is a grave question."

Dr. Fergusson suggested that the representatives of the schools should have direct control of at least a portion of the time at such conferences and that one day of the conference should be spent by the representatives, with a chairman of their own choosing and following a program of their own preparation. The second day the conference should be held with the representatives of the Boards for a discussion of the larger problems.

Mr. McAfee and Dr. Minton thought that the Church was not ready to back up a permanent organization, but that the conference idea was the better way to proceed. The representatives generally approved of an annual conference.

The question of the organic relationship of the Training Schools' representatives came up before the conference and it was thought best, in view of delicate questions arising as to the ecclesiastical authority variously exercised over these schools, to plan for a loose organization with a merely conferential object in view for the present. It was, however, definitely recognized that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. had given encouragement and support to such schools "in organic connection with the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A."*

The question of what is meant by organic connection was variously interpreted and is likely to be a vital question for future discussion. Dr. Roberts believed that the word "Presbyterian" in connection with the name of an institution indicated that such institution was in vital connection with the Presbyterian Church, and, if vital, then in organic connection. "I do not know where an institution is found that is denominational in its character and has the word 'Presbyterian' in its charter that does not sustain a vital relation to the Presbyterian Church."

^{*} Action of Assembly, 1909.

The question as to whether theological seminaries should include departments for the training of lay workers was discussed, President James A. Kelso, of Western Theological Seminary, leading the discussion. He said in part:

"The problem that came to Western Seminary specifically was the training of lay workers for the foreign-speaking people of western Pennsylvania. The relation between the Seminary and the Training School at Coraopolis is that of hearty co-operation. We take only such students into the Seminary or the special departments as have been found fitted, by actual work, for taking a theological course. A year or two in preparatory work before taking up the regular seminary curriculum was necessary in some cases. We have been instrumental in sending several men to college before taking regular seminary work.

"We have organized what we call a Seminary Extension Course wherein three different courses of lectures are being given in four different churches this winter for the benefit of lay workers. The response from the churches is so hearty that we feel we are meeting a deeply felt need.

"As regards the courses adapted specially for women, I do not see how the average theological seminary can offer them. In the case of men looking forward to lay work, we must distinguish between men of limited education and college men. It is a dangerous thing for the college graduate to become a pastor's assistant, for you are apt to entice him away from the ordained ministry. If you put him in a course for lay workers in a theological seminary he would in time feel that he was in the wrong place. Foreign students generally do not like to take special courses. They want to take a full seminary course and come out ordained ministers.

"The problem of the volunteer lay workers should be considered. The church I attend would not be able to employ a man and give him an adequate salary, yet it is one of the strongest churches in Pittsburgh. The Seminary has a great field for helping volunteer lay workers to secure better equipment, and the first step is the organization of Seminary Extension Lectures.

"The proper relation between the Seminary and Training Schools should be one of affiliation, whereby library facilities and certain courses of lectures should be open to the latter school. The Seminary should, however, keep in mind that it has a specific work, i. e., the training of the minister."

Professor John D. Davis, of Princeton, followed. He said:

"I came here to-day not knowing that I was expected to make any remarks or to represent the Seminary in any other manner than by my presence. What I shall say now will be said without any consultation with my colleagues of the Faculty and will represent possibly myself more than I represent them. I was amazed at hearing surprise expressed that the Seminaries were interested in this matter. Princeton Seminary, for one, is represented here by a member of the Faculty, two members of the Board of Directors, and in looking around the room I see five graduates of the Seminary. We are all interested in it. . . . In the training of lay workers Princeton Seminary does not want to educate persons of foreign speech. We want Americans. The Church has a school for the training of foreigners at Bloomfield, another at Dubuque; and Allegheny, situated as it is, with a vast foreign community settled about it, has taken up similar work. There is thus a class of our great and growing population that does not belong to Princeton. . . . Then we do not want to train deaconesses, but we might like to train some women. We would like to get some of the finest products of our young women's colleges at Princeton, and train them for positions in the higher schools of our land to teach the Bible as the Bible ought to be taught. I do not like this thing of women, or men either, who have obtained a partial view of the Bible, and have taken a course in philosophy and perhaps in the science of religion, undertaking profound Biblical teaching. In all our schools the teaching of the Bible ought to be based on thorough knowledge. . . . And we are not prepared to receive persons who can give only an hour a day from other labor or can attend classes at night only. We want those who can devote the entire year to consecutive study.

"What is the history of the Seminary in the past? We have long had in view the training of lay workers for the Presbyterian Church. It has been announced in our catalogue for years and we are all ready. Just as soon as the Church asks us we are willing to throw open our magnificent facilities for just that work. We do not ask a great endowment. We simply say that we are ready and we can help you and we can give you the very best that this country affords. We can train teachers of the Bible and of Ethics and of Christian Philosophy for our secular schools, and we can train the Sunday-school superintendent and the missionary. You must have your schools here and there to meet the requirements of certain classes of young people who seek training for certain kinds of work, but we would like you to remember that over there in New Jersey is a hoary old institution that is wide awake and ready to aid you with the best that this country affords. . . . We hope that the training schools for lay workers, bound together in this organization to-day, will not feel that they have a monopoly and that they are the only schools able to give the instruction. There are departments of lay work for which the theological seminaries of our Church already have the facilities for furnishing proper preparation."

Dr. William Henry Oxtoby, representing McCormick Seminary, said that President McClure had written him stating that the Institution is founded to instruct candidates for the Christian ministry, and that any change in the nature of the work lies beyond the province of the Faculty. The Seminary, however, is interested in the training of lay workers, and wishes to do all that it can in that line.

"Where a Seminary," said Dr. Oxtoby, "is located in a city it would seem that a combination might be effected whereby seminary courses could be offered to lay workers. It seems a pity that with our seminaries thus endowed and equipped with men of learning we are not able to bring the best scholarship directly in touch with the people."

Professor Jackson, representing the German Theological School of Newark, spoke of the training of lay workers for foreign-speaking peoples in Bloomfield, stating that besides Germans there are Hungarians, Italians, Ruthenians and two Syrians in attendance, "There is a constant tendency to add new nationalities, thus complicating our teaching and requiring the addition of teachers in the mother tongues. We have those desiring a full preparation for the ministry and who desire to take and are taking a collegiate course. Besides these we have a number of men who desire to become equipped as quickly as possible. These men may be, when they leave us, in a way ready for lay activity, but they go out very ill prepared for the ministry. Some Presbyteries ordain these men, although they know very well that they have not taken the full course. A man may leave our school after a very limited course, and because he has a certificate for work done at a theological seminary will be railroaded through a Presbyterial examination to full ordination. Simply because he is a foreigner he is excused from a great deal that would be required of an American. This is one of our difficulties, but many men come for short courses who remain for the full course.

"Many of these foreign peoples do not want men to preach them the Word; they want a priest—some one to administer the sacraments, to officiate at marriages and burials. We are in danger of sending out men who are largely untrained to teach and preach and who will be ordained by a Presbytery because some foreigners insist they must have an official personality of the Church.

"We need for lay work a much larger endowment, but are attempting to follow out the spirit of the General Assembly recommendation. For two years we have had a conference and summer school for Christian workers at Bloomfield and the Boards in charge have aided us nobly."

Dr. Kelso raised the question whether seminaries legally have the right to use for lay training the funds that have been given for the education of the ministry.

III. TRAINING SCHOOLS AS RELATED TO THE CHURCH AT LARGE.

President H. L. McCrorey, of Biddle University, spoke on "The Need of Trained Lay Workers for the Negro." He said:

"We have a crying need for this sort of work, but no place for it in the curriculum of Biddle University. As far as we are concerned, it would be far better to have lay training in connection with the Theological Seminaries for the negro simply because it is impossible, under present conditions, to have separate schools. The need now facing us is for trained Sunday-school missionaries. We cannot undertake this work without additional teaching force. We have Sunday-school missionaries, but their work would produce greater results if they enjoyed adequate training.

"We need trained Y. M. C. A. men and the like. We need trained men for mission work among the negroes. We have educated a number of young men to do missionary work in Africa and they have applied to the Board of Foreign Missions, but have been rejected in every case, if I mistake not. The Board thinks these men are not competent to do the work because they have not received adequate training. There ought to be an opportunity, brethren, for our men to qualify themselves to the extent that the Foreign Board would accept them as missionaries.

"It is necessary that such work should be done in the South. We must train our own people on native soil. If we cannot get a separate school in the South to do this work, we should be given sufficient equipment to do it in connection with the theological department of Biddle University."

The question as to the feasibility of erecting courses for men in these training schools was considered. Dr. Kelso stated that from his own experience he found that as soon as a man is given a training for lay work he desires to be ordained. A number of instances to this effect were cited.

Dr. Conning stated that there was at the same time a large corps of laymen at work who are not being led forward to the ministry, men in Sunday-school, Association work and the like, and he believed there is a tremendous field of opportunity for the training of these workers.

The Rev. E. Morris Fergusson said:

"We do not get men in the Training School because it is so much harder for men than it is for women to swing clear of the necessities of life during the period when they must go into residence. The reason why the woman is more attracted to the course of training than the man is because she is shut out of the ministry. She cannot be called 'Reverend,' but she can be admitted to an ecclesiastical order and given the title of 'Deaconess' and wear a blue uniform. They may have some kind of status, something that will satisfy a young man's sense of attainment, and in this way you will help to solve the problem. Men on the missionary force of the Board of Publication have worked thirty years as laymen and are still satisfied. The time should soon come when we shall create such a status for the trained laymen of the Church."

Mr. Joseph E. McAfee, of the Home Board, commenting on this question of status, said:

"Is it true that there is no position of leadership for a man other than in the ministry? One function is that of assistants to pastors. I know of three different churches who have lately drawn young men just out of college to this position. It is acquiring larger dignity and is, I think, a permanent position. Furthermore, it will show rapid development as a position of greater initiative and independence. There is an enthusiasm arising in the Church for fulfilling certain functions, but in behalf of which no one is making any preparation. The Churches are demanding a kind of man not called to the ministry in the pulpit, but who has a very important function to fulfill in leadership in other lines of church activity, who will make no apologies for lack of training, who will suffer no embarrassments before the Christian public for his position, but whom the Church ought to claim by a very definite provision for expert training in the peculiar service the Church will expect of him.

"There is a call for executive work for which a minister's training does not prepare. More and more the pastors of big churches are wanting experts in their offices. Church business is not ordinary business. Sooner or later we shall have to have a force of men who will be expertly trained as business managers of churches, and it is time for us to realize that we must meet this demand."

A Committee consisting of one representative from each Training School and the Secretaries of the Boards of Education and Publication and Sabbath School Work, having been appointed to draft a series of resolutions, embodying the results of the Conference, met the next day and adopted the following:

- "1. The Conference desires to express its appreciation of the action of the General Assembly in directing and approving the establishment of Presbyterian Training Schools. We feel that the need for trained lay service, both of men and women in Presbyterian churches should be met by schools conducted in full sympathy with Presbyterian standards and ideals and in connection with the Presbyterian Church.
- "2. We believe that the calls of our churches for trained lay service, numerous and strong as they are, constitute but the beginning of a demand for which the Presbyterian Church is most inadequately prepared. We recognize the value and the wise location of the existing schools, but believe that these should be enlarged and others established.
- "3. We would further express our gratitude that the General Assembly has sought to provide for the welfare of these schools by commending them to the attention and aid of the Board of Education as a proper agency to receive and disburse funds for their use.
- "4. We desire to express our thanks to the Boards of Education, and Publication and Sabbath School Work, for calling, preparing and conducting this Conference, the value of which, to all the institutions and members participating, has been great and will, we believe, be lasting.
- "5. We believe that the Training Schools for Lay Workers in the Presbyterian Church should organize for their mutual benefit through the holding of an annual Conference; and that, through the joint labors of such a Conference and the officers of the Boards concerned, the method and curriculum of such schools should be standardized and their interests placed unitedly and authoritatively before the Church.
 - "The Council would further resolve:
 - "6. That a Committee be appointed to consider carefully the plans for institutions for lay workers and their relation to the Church at large, the Committee to be composed of Drs. Cochran and Henry, Secretaries of the Boards of Education and Publication and Sabbath School Work, with a representative from each Presbyterian institution; the representatives of the institutions to be appointed by the managers of the same; the report to be made to the next annual Conference, the Secretary of the Board of Education to be the Chairman of the Committee

- "7. That the Secretary of the Board of Education report to the next General Assembly as to the situation concerning the training of lay workers among the colored people; he to confer on this subject with the Secretary of the Board of Missions for Freedmen.
- "8. That the Training Schools of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America here represented request the Presbyterian Board of Education to act as their representative before the General Assembly in presenting their reports and their general interests; and that this new plan be commended to the appropriate governing bodies of the other branches of the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches, inviting their co-operation."

The Board of Education, at its meeting of March 13, received and adopted the report of its Special Committee on Training Schools for Lay Workers as follows:

"The Committee has carefully considered Recommendation III of the Standing Committee on the Board of Education of the last General Assembly, which reads as follows:

- "'That the Board continue to aid in promoting the interests of our Presbyterian Training Schools for Lay Workers, and that, in harmony with previous recommendations of the General Assembly, the Board of Education be commended to such schools and to contributors to their work as a proper body to receive and disburse funds as designated.'
 - "Your Committee recommends:
- "(1) That a representative of this Board be appointed upon the Committee suggested at the Conference to consider carefully the plans of institutions for Lay Workers and their relation to the Church at large, this representative to be Dr. Cochran.
- "(2) That the Board of Education act as the representative before the General Assembly of such Presbyterian Training Schools as may, through their governing bodies, ask this Board to present their reports and represent their interests at the General Assembly.

"(3) That the Board, through an understanding with the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work, issue a special report on Training Schools for Lay Workers as a supplement to its Annual Report to the Assembly."

Respectfully submitted,

Secretary.

- II. That the General Assembly commend the Board for its work in connection with the special training of men for work among foreigners, and that it be directed to adopt such further measures for the promotion of this work as shall be agreed upon between the Board and the authorities of the Theological Seminaries giving special training to men for this work.
- III. That the Board be authorized to aid in promoting the interests of our Presbyterian Training Schools for Lay Workers, and that it be commended to such schools and to contributors to their work as a proper body to receive and disburse funds as designated with the hope that the development of this work will be rapid and of large service to the Church.

- IV. That the action of the Board in reference to work among students in State schools of higher learning be approved, and that it be authorized to continue this work within the limits of the instructions contained in the deliverances of former Assemblies and always in co-operation with the Synods concerned.
- V. That the Assembly approve the plan of College Visitation as carried out this past year in connection with the Assembly's Evangelistic Committee, and authorize it to continue the plan under the initiative of the Board.
- VI. That the Assembly approve the action of the Board in insisting upon the return of grants where the individual has either failed to carry his studies to completion or for other cause has failed to keep the contract implied in the reception of such aid.
- VII. That the Assembly directs the Presbyteries to guard themselves against receiving and recommending candidates who have not fair prospects of pursuing their course of preparation for the ministry.
- VIII. That the action of the Board of Education on page 15 of the Annual Report, paragraphs 2, 3 and 4, be approved.
- IX. That the action of the Board of Education concerning aid for medical students as stated on pages 16 and 17 of the Annual Report be approved.
- X. That the application blanks for aid for medical students as submitted be approved.
- XI. That the Board be authorized to continue to aid the organization known as "The Presbyterian Theological Seminary of the South" in their plans to promote the theological training of ministerial students from that section through the Lane-Lebanon Alliance by such methods as may seem wise to the Board.
- XII. That the Thursday immediately preceding the second Sunday of February, 1912, being the eighth day of the month, be observed by the Church in the churches and schools as a Day of Prayer for Colleges and Universities.
- XIII. That the report of the Treasurer of the Board, having been duly audited by a certified public accountant, and the Minutes of the Board be approved.

XIV. That the Assembly be requested to arrange for a special order for the consideration of the special report concerning Training Schools for Lay Workers.

XV. That the action of the Board in recommending that the Assembly assign the work to be done for the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Colored, to the Board of Missions for Freedmen, be approved.

XVI. That the Board be authorized, in its discretion, to increase its membership by three additional members, making a Board of twenty-seven instead of twenty-four, and that of said twenty-seven members fifteen at least shall be laymen residing in Pennsylvania.

XVII. That the three classes hereafter elected annually shall each consist of four ministers and five laymen, and that the Board be given power to fill the vacancies created by the above resolution.

XVIII. That the election of the Rev. John Balcom Shaw, D.D., of Chicago, Ill., and William R. Nicholson to the Class of 1909–'12 be approved;

That the election of the Rev. Edward Pence, D.D., of Detroit, and the Hon. William P. Potter to the Class of 1910-'13 be approved;

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON PUBLICATION AND SABBATH-SCHOOL WORK.

Presented to and approved by the General Assembly at Atlantic City, New Jersey, May 24, 1911.

Your Committee on the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work respectfully presents the following report:

We feel that the entire Church is to be congratulated upon the splendid results accomplished through the work of this Board during the past year.

"More Sabbath schools and better Sabbath schools," suggested some time ago as the motto of this Board, is very simple in the statement of it, but becomes marvelously complex in the working out of all its numerous details. It means, first, the work of the Sabbath-school missionary, going into all the communities which are destitute of gospel privileges, carrying with him the Bible, proclaiming the gospel, and gathering the people together for regular and systematic instruction in God's Word. One hundred and twenty-two of these missionaries added a total of 910 more Sabbath schools to the forces of religious education during the year, into which were gathered 31,778 persons, of whom 3,133 were officers and teachers, and 28,645 were pupils.

But more Sabbath schools is only a part, and the smaller part of the end desired. The constant aim of the missionary must be to make every school which he organizes or touches, the best which it is possible for it to be. The material with which he has to work is very raw, the equipment often only such as a ready ingenuity can provide, and the conditions such as would discourage any but the stoutest-hearted workers. To overcome these obstacles, and make the companies which he has organized for Bible study in any way worthy of the name of schools, the missionary must visit the people in their homes, must visit every school as frequently as possible, and should himself be capable of instructing his officers and teachers in the fundamental principles of Sabbath-school work.

Educational Work

It was in recognition of the need for this educational work on the part of the missionary that the Board created the office of Educational Superintendent of Sabbath-school Missions, in which the Rev. E. Morris Fergusson has been doing such splendid work.

During the year, the missionaries have had the benefit of expert direction in the educational visitation of their mission schools, and the other schools on their fields. In addition to their work of visitation, the missionaries have also held 915 institutes during the year. Four conferences were also held with the missionaries, in which they received much valuable instruction in the best methods of Sabbath-school work. A fifth conference is to be held at San Francisco, following the International Sunday-school Convention.

We note, with great satisfaction, the careful attention which the Board is thus giving to the educational work of its missionaries, and trust that this work will be increased in scope and efficiency as rapidly as conditions will permit. We hope the time will speedily come when the Board may feel able to employ men, at adequate salaries, who are prepared for the educational work so much needed, and give them the most thorough and practical assistance in that work.

In looking after the communities which are destitute of religious instruction, great bodies of foreign-speaking peoples are discovered who must be given the truth in their own tongues. For this purpose the work of the missionary must be supplemented by that of the colporteur, who must be provided with religious books, tracts, Bibles, Testaments, and portions of Scripture, in the language of the people with whom he works. Twenty-one colporteurs have been at work during the past year, and literature has been provided in at least twenty different languages. We regret to note that a needed increase in this work could not be made because of lack of funds.

The need of better Sabbath schools is by no means confined to our missionary fields. Everywhere there is an ever-increasing demand for Sabbath schools which shall be schools in fact as well as in name. As the Church comes to realize, more and more, its direct responsibility for the religious education of the people, the demand that its elementary school—the Sabbath school—be brought to the highest state of efficiency, will grow in power and insistence.

Graded Lessons

To meet this demand, a curriculum, based upon a thorough understanding of the subjects to be taught and the best methods of teaching them, must be provided, together with the necessary equipment for pupil and teacher. Thus the Graded Lessons have grown out of a demand for Bible teaching in our Sabbath schools, which is based upon a thorough understanding of the principles of teaching and the person to be taught. The change is not one of material but of method. It is not sufficient that the Bible should be taught—it must be taught in the best way. We believe that your Board is using the utmost diligence to provide the Church with a series of graded Bible Lessons which shall adequately meet its needs. It is a task requiring time and patience, but we believe that, in the end, the Church will be more than satisfied with the accomplished result.

There is, also, recognized the need for expressing the truths of the Bible in the thought forms of the people taught, and of fitting these truths into their daily experiences. With this in view, lessons are furnished which have a direct bearing upon the life of the people as it is related to the work of the Church.

But improvement in methods of teaching calls for a corresponding improvement in those who would teach. It is of little purpose to furnish a lesson arranged with reference to the established principles of pedagogy if the person who is to teach has no understanding of, or insight into, these principles. We believe that any failure in the results of Sabbath-school teaching is due more to the teacher than to the lesson, or to the helps furnished for understanding and teaching the same. We believe that much of the little complaint heard of the Graded Lessons grows out of the lack of teachers who are prepared to teach them. Instead of lowering the standard of our lessons to the teachers we should raise the standard of the teachers to the lessons.

This, also, is a work calling for time, skill and patience. Progress is being made. Teacher-training courses are provided by the Board and are being extensively used. We are glad to note that the recommendations of the Superintendent of Sabbath-school Training for an Advanced Course, covering three years more than the first two courses provided, are being adopted by many classes. The Correspondence Course for officers should also have the immediate attention of our schools. While we expect constant improvement in the courses offered for the training of the Sabbath-school workers, the results obtained must depend upon the use made by pastors and congregations of the material furnished.

Interest in this work must also be stimulated through the Sabbath-school committees of congregations, Presbyteries and Synods. There should be a more thorough understanding of the Sabbath-school problem on the part of congregations. Institutes should be held as often as practicable in connection with the work of Synods and Presbyteries. Much has been accomplished through representatives of the Board in their contact with the field. The valuable work of the Educational Superintendent of Sabbath-school Missions in this connection leads us to hope that the way may be soon opened for the Board to employ more experts, who may be brought into more immediate touch with the work on the field.

With the expanding life and work of the Young People's Church, other organizations of young people Work arose, the aim of which was the training of the vouth of the Church in Christian life and service. For the capable oversight and direction of this work among young people, the Assembly wisely instructed the Board to organize the Department of Young People's Work. We rejoice that the Supcrintendent of this Department, the Rev. Willis Lord Gelston, has fully recovered his health, and is again able to devote all his time to the work. We are glad, also, that the Board was able to secure the services of the Rev. William Ralph Hall as Assistant to the Superintendent. The wisdom of establishing this Department has been abundantly justified by the results. Many of the members of this Assembly gratefully acknowledge the work done for the young people of their communities through this Department, by these young men.

But this does not mark the farthest reach of the work and responsibility of this Board. The Assembly of 1907 adopted the recommendation of the final report of the Standing Committee on Young People's Work, "That, in view of the various and unrelated agencies influencing the young people of our Church, the Committee on Administrative Agencies be directed to present for the consideration of the next General Assembly some plan for a central bureau for the Christian nurture of the young; such bureau to undertake a comprehensive program on the subject, including principles and modes of organization, instruction in the Bible, in missionary affairs, in Church standards and policy, practical ministry, systematic giving, devotional, manual, social and other features proper to the subject, and plans for making the same effective among churches and the young people."

The Assembly's Committee on Administrative Agencies spent two years in the study of these instructions, and in 1909 reported the following recommendation, which was adopted by the Assembly:

"That the Assembly unify its educational work among the children and youth by committing it for general supervision to the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work, to which the Assembly has already committed it in part, and that it is hereby so committed."

The final step in making the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work the Board of Religious Education for the local church, was taken when the report of the Assembly's Committee on Religious Education was adopted by this Assembly, in which it was recommended that the work which this Committee has been carrying on for the past three years be transferred to the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work, giving to it the duty of preparing courses of study to meet the needs of our Sabbath schools, and suggesting that the Department of Young People's work be known henceforth as the Department of Religious Education and Young People's Work.

All this tends to emphasize greatly the educational work of the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work, and to point to the necessity for the Board giving more attention to this aspect of its work than ever before; and, at the same time, endeavoring to enter into such relations with the other Boards of the Church that the Assembly's expressed intention of unifying its educational work among our youth may be accomplished as speedily as possible.

Thus, through the expanding life of the Church, this Board, originally organized for the publication of religious literature, has become a great missionary agency, and a Board of Elementary Religious Education. Yet it is not less, but rather more, a great publishing Board. We believe that the Sabbath-school literature prepared and issued by our Board is not excelled in all the world. We believe the Board is making earnest effort to bring the best literature under the observation, and within the reach, of the people of the Church. We recognize the difficulties in the way of the extension of its work of publication. We are glad to learn that the Board is already giving earnest consideration to this subject, and believe that, with due diligence, it may extend its work of publication in a way which would be greatly to the advantage of the Church, and to the Board as well, commending the best books more directly to our people by putting upon them the imprint of the Westminster Press. We should like to see our Board put on a level with the other great publishing concerns in this particular, and believe that, with a hearty cooperation on the part of the producers and purchasers of books in our Church, it may be done.

We believe that the proposed smaller edition of The Hymnal, identical in paging and contents with the regular edition, will be welcomed by many of our congregations, and will greatly increase the use of The Hymnal, to the improvement of the worship of our churches.

We predict that The Westminster Hymnal, combining with the old, standard hymns and tunes those of a more popular character, will meet with great favor, and supply a real need in many quarters of the Church.

We are glad to note that progress has been made in the preparation of a new hymnal for Sabbath schools, and trust that it may strike that happy medium between the ideal and the practical which will commend it to our schools, and make it of service in creating and maintaining a better standard of Sabbath-school music.

As shown by the report of the Board, the year just closed was one of marked success in the Business Department. The management is to be heartily commended for the showing made.

The Minutes of the Board and its Committees have been carefully examined and found in good order; their approval is recommended.

Recommendations We propose the following recommendations:

- 1. That the Board be encouraged in its plans and appropriations of funds, to give prominence to educational work.
- 2. That the needs of those communities in which the boys and girls have at present no opportunity for receiving a Christian education, be kept before the Board in commissioning its missionaries and organizing new Sabbath schools.

- 3. That as rapidly as the funds of the Board will permit, Educational Superintendents be appointed to have charge of the Board's efforts to improve the work of existing Sabbath schools, and to aid the missionaries of the Board in their educational work.
- 4. That Synods and Presbyteries, in appointing Committees on the work of the Board, be advised to keep in mind its educational character, and appoint on these Committees men who will be interested in promoting educational work in Sabbath schools and among our young people.
- 5. That Presbyteries be advised to appoint at least an hour in one of their meetings each year for the consideration of the work of religious education among our youth.
- 6. That pastors and superintendents be asked to urge upon their young people the importance of attending the summer conferences planned by the Board and conducted by its representatives.
- 7. That the Board be asked to give especial consideration to the perfecting of plans and courses of study by which the Church may best prosecute its educational work for adults.
- 8. That the Board be commended for the progress made toward the perfecting of the Graded Lessons, and be encouraged to complete these lessons, as soon as practicable, with their supplemental studies in Christian life and service, and in the history, doctrine, polity and work of the Church at large, and of our Church in particular.
- 9. That the Board be congratulated upon the success of the annuity bond plan for the reduction of the debt on the Witherspoon Building.
- 10. That the Board be encouraged to increase, as rapidly as practicable, the publication of books—especially those by Presbyterian authors.
- 11. That our people be again reminded that in helping to increase the earnings of this Board they are helping to increase the amount available for the prosecution of its missionary work; and that they be urged to purchase all books and supplies, as well as Sabbath-school literature, from the Board. And that, to this end, the Board use the utmost diligence in bringing its books and other publications to the attention of the people.

- 12. That Children's Day and Rally Day be observed by all schools; that the first Sunday in February be observed as Young People's Day by our churches; that the excellent literature provided by the Board for these services, be used; and that liberal offerings be made to the Board for the purposes indicated by these services.
- 13. That the Standard of Excellence prepared by the Board be heartily approved.
- 14. That the Assembly confirm the election of the Rev. Edmund G. Rawson, Rev. John A. McCallum, and Mr. Thomas R. Patton, to fill the vacancies in the Board caused by the death of Rev. Charles A. Dickey, D. D., Rev. Robert M. Patterson, D. D., and Mr. John H. Converse.
- 15. The terms of office of the following members of the Board will expire next month: Ministers John Harvey Lee, Frank Lukens, John B. Laird, D. D., Robert Hunter, D. D., S. D. Logan; Elders Robert N. Willson, A. R. Perkins, J. Milton Colton, Bernard Gilpin and W. T. Cartwright. We recommend that these gentlemen be reëlected to succeed themselves.
- 16. We have had referred to us an overture from the Presbytery of Fargo, asking for a new series of graded lesson to embody certain special features. Inasmuch as everything asked for in the proposed new series is included in the plans of the Board and recommended in this report, we recommend that no further action be taken.

There have also been referred to your Committee overtures from the Presbytery of Pembina and the Synod of North Dakota, asking that steps be taken toward providing relief for Sabbath-school missionaries who have faithfully served the Church. We approve the suggestion, and recommend that the whole matter be referred to the Board of Ministerial Relief for consideration, in conjunction with the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work, to report to the next Assembly.

We have also considered the overture referred to us from the Presbytery of Binghamton, asking for a revision of the selections for responsive readings in the Psalter and of the Book of Common Worship. We recommend that the petition be not granted.

The Standing Committee on Publication and Sabbath-School Work presented a Supplemental Report, which was adopted and is as follows:

There has been referred to your Committee a memorial from the Presbytery of Tulsa, asking for the elimination of certain material from the Graded Sabbath-School Lessons. Since it is the purpose of the Board that the material of which complaint is made shall be used only by way of illustrating and enforcing Bible truth, and since the maintenance of the integrity of this course is essential to its highest usefulness, we recommend that the petition be not granted.

In behalf of the Committee,

THOMAS A. WIGGINTON, Chairman

Attest:

WILLIAM H. ROBERTS, Stated Clerk.

The Seventy-Third Annual Report

Presbyterian Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work

Approved by the Board, April 25, 1911

The Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work presents to the General Assembly its Seventy-third Annual Report.

The past year has been a year of progress and prosperity. The business of the Board has been successful, the volume of business being $100,000 greater than during the previous year. The profits were $40,834.61, two-thirds of which will be used in promoting our missionary work.

Special attention has been given to educational work. Efforts have been made to help all our Sabbath schools, both mission and church schools, and to be of service to our young people.

The contributions for missionary work received from churches, schools and individuals, amounted to $181,853, which is $11,777 more than the contributions of the previous year. This enabled the Board to close the year with a balance of $6,539 to the credit of the Missionary Department.

Sunday-School Extension and Development

The Standing Committee on Publication and Sabbath-school Work, reporting to the last General Assembly, said: "The aim should be, more and better Sunday schools in all parts of the country." This has been in the past, and is to-day, the aim of the Board. We would report to the Assembly that during the year just closed, we have made gratifying progress in our efforts to secure more and better Sabbath schools. Our missionaries have been diligently engaged in organizing new schools in communities lacking religious privileges; and, at the same time, have fostered and developed mission schools organized in former years.

Special attention has been given to the improvement of the Sabbath schools connected with our churches. This has been done by the preparation of literature, the suggestions of plans and the holding of conferences and institutes. The training of Sabbath-school teachers has been kept before the Church, and encouraging response has been received. Details of this work of Sabbath-school extension and development will be found on pages 7-9.

Young People's Work

Marked progress has been made during the past year in the work of the Young People's Department. This is due, in part, to the increasing interest and appreciation by the Church of the help this department is giving to our youth. It is also due to the fact that Mr. Gelston, who was partially laid aside for a year by illness, has been able to return to the office and take up his work with renewed vigor.

Another important element has been the added help of Rev. W. R. Hall, who was elected to assist Mr. Gelston in view of the enlarging work of the department. He entered upon his service for the Board in July of last year.

A more complete report will be found on pages 19-23.

Graded Lessons

The demand for the new Graded Lessons continues to increase. While some of our schools have, for various reasons, returned to the Uniform System of International Lessons, after a trial of the Graded Lessons, a much larger number of new schools have taken their places; and the great majority of the schools that have been using those lessons regard them with increasing favor.

A year ago the Board had 225,500 subscriptions for the Graded Lessons; to-day the total subscriptions are 294,000.

In view of the many questions that have arisen in reference to these lessons, the Editorial Department has prepared a special report, which will be found on pages 28-30.

Work on the Hymnals

In the report of the Board made to the last General Assembly, full information was given in regard to the revision of The Hymnal then in progress. During the year the preparation of the book and the making of the electrotype plates have been completed. The book is now on the press and will be ready for the market within a few weeks.

In addition to the standard musical edition, it is proposed to publish an edition of The Hymnal with the tunes in a smaller size, identical in contents and paging, and of clear and legible type, for the use of those who prefer a hymnal of comparatively light weight. It is believed that this arrangement will be appreciated by many in our congregations.

The Westminster Hymnal is now on sale. This hymnal has been prepared to meet the wants of such churches as desire to use one book of praise in all their services. It contains, in a fair proportion, material of a simpler, popular character, which can easily be used in Sabbath schools and on the mission fields, as well as in familiar religious services. In compliance with the requests coming from various Presbyteries, the words of the hymns have been inserted between the staffs of the music in The Westminster Hymnal.

It may also be stated that a large amount of work has been done in the preparation of a new hymnal for Sabbath schools. It will be published at as early a date as is possible.

The Debt on the Witherspoon Building

When the Witherspoon Building was erected in 1897, it cost, together with the land, $1,080,000. The Board was able to pay $480,000 of the total cost, leaving $600,000 to be provided for by a mortgage placed upon the building. During the twelve years from the time of the erection of the building until 1909, $300,000 had been paid upon the mortgage, leaving $300,000 then to be paid.

Two years ago the Board, with the approval of the General Assembly, inaugurated a plan whereby this remaining indebtedness could be speedily removed and thus permit of the use of the net income from the building in the extension of the Board's missionary work. Annuity bonds are issued in denominations of $500, $1,000 and $5,000, paying interest at the rate of from five to ten per cent., according to the age of the annuitant. Immediately upon receipt of subscriptions for these bonds, the principal is applied to the reduction of the Witherspoon Building mortgage. So successful has been the sale of these bonds ($120,000 having been subscribed), that from their proceeds, together with other available funds, the mortgage indebtedness will be reduced to $95,000 before May 1.

Temperance Literature

During the year the Board has printed for the Permanent Committee on Temperance, literature to the value of $1,000 for free distribution among our churches and Sunday schools. In view of the importance of this subject, the Board proposes, with the approval of the General Assembly, to publish, in conjunction with the Permanent Committee on Temperance, an equal amount of temperance literature for the same purpose during the coming year.

Changes in Membership

Since the last report to the General Assembly, three members of the Board have been removed by death—Mr. John H. Converse, who died the 3d of May, 1910, and Rev. Charles A. Dickey, D.D., LL.D., who died June 10, 1910.

Rev. Edmund G. Rawson and Mr. Thomas R. Patton have been elected to fill these vacancies.

On the 5th of April, since the close of our fiscal year, Rev. Robert M. Patterson, D. D., LL. D., died. He had been a member of the Board since 1870—a period of forty-one years. Rev. John A. McCallum has been elected to fill this vacancy.

The General Assembly is requested to confirm these elections.

Expiration of Term of Office

The term of office of the following members of the Board will expire next month:

Ministers:

REV. JOHN HARVEY LEE, REV. FRANK LUKENS, REV. JOHN B. LAIRD, D. D., REV. ROBERT HUNTER, D. D., REV. S. D. LOGAN.

Elders:

HON. ROBERT N. WILLSON, A. R. PERKINS, J. MILTON COLTON, BERNARD GILPIN, W. T. CARTWRIGHT.

Representation at the General Assembly

The Hon. Robert N. Willson and Rev. John Harvey Lee were requested and authorized to represent the Board, in connection with the Sceretary and the Business Superintendent, at the meeting of the General Assembly.

Department of Sabbath-School and Missionary Work

THE FIELD. Our Sabbath-school missionary and colporteur work has been nation wide in its scope during the past year. Every Synod and State has shared in the labors of these men.

THE WORKERS. The number of Sabbath-school missionaries who were in the field, for longer or shorter periods, was 122, besides 21 colporteurs whose attention was given entirely to the visitation of foreign settlements. Of these missionaries 20 were Synodical and District Superintendents, and 123 were assigned to different Presbyteries, making a total of 143. (For a complete list of Sabbath-school missionaries at work April 1, 1911, see pages 54-56.)

Sabbath-School Extension Work. Following the missionary policy of their respective Presbyteries, our Sabbath-school missionaries have organized 730 new Sabbath schools and revived 180, making a total of 910, into which they have gathered 31,778 persons, of whom 3,133 were officers and teachers and 28,645 were pupils. (See page 24.)

SABBATH SCHOOLS ORGANIZED UNDER THE BOARD'S OFFER OF EQUIPMENT. In this way we have encouraged the organization of mission Sabbath schools in localities unreached by Sabbath-school missionaries. During the year 62 Sabbath schools have thus come into existence.

Sabbath Schools Aided. More than 1,000 mission Sabbath schools not yet self-supporting, have been aided during the year by donations of lesson helps, papers, hymnals, libraries and other supplies.

Sabbath-School Development. Complete reports received from our Sabbath-school missionaries, show that they have 2,447 Sabbath schools under their care, with a membership of 111,701. By frequent visitation, they encourage and develop these schools, thus holding strategic points for our Church until the arrival of the home missionary. In many other cases where churches cannot be maintained, these Sabbath schools represent the only religious service in the community.

House-to-House Visitation. In their wayside ministry, our Sabbath-school missionaries have visited 97,647 families in rural districts. In many of these scattered homes, the visit of the Sabbath-school missionary is the only pastoral work with which they are familiar.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES. In some parts of the field these workers are called upon to hold evangelistic services as a means of interesting the parents, and stimulating the spiritual life of the community. They held 952 such services last year, 2,735 conversions being reported.

DISTRIBUTING LITERATURE. Much good is accomplished through the distribution, by sale and gift, of evangelical literature. This is especially true in connection with our colporteur work among foreigners. During the year 22,429 volumes and 9,394,139 pages of religious tracts have been distributed; besides 5,566 Bibles and Testaments, of which 1,722 were in foreign languages.

Churches Developed. Reports from the field show that 116 new churches have developed from mission Sabbath schools organized by our Sabbath-school missionaries during previous years. Of these churches 113 are Presbyterian and 3 are of other denominations. (See page 25.)

PRESBYTERIAN CHAPEL BUILDINGS. Our missionaries have assisted in the erection of 73 Presbyterian chapels to house their new organizations. The value of these buildings is $156,715. It will be noted that the value of the property thus acquired by the Presbyterian Church during the year represents a return of 93 per cent. of the entire cost of this work.

Clothing Distributed

Forest fires in the Northwest and the crop failure in other sections, were the cause of much suffering, a portion of which our Sabbath-school missionaries were able to relieve through the generous donations of clothing sent to them by Women's Societies, Mission Bands and Sabbath schools. The value of these gifts is $5,543.16.

Review of Twenty-Four Years' Work

The table on page 25 shows the permanency of the work done by our Sabbath-school missionaries and the results that have accrued to the Church. Fourteen hundred and thirty-seven Presbyterian churches have grown from mission Sabbath schools, organized by Sabbath-school missionaries of this Board, an average of nearly 60 new Presbyterian churches each year since the inception of the work. Other denominations also have shared in the results of these labors, having gathered 581 churches, making a total of 2,016 churches established; an average of 84 each year.

Synodical and Presbyterial Sabbath-School Committees

Never before has our Board experienced such helpful cooperation from Synodical and Presbyterial Committees as has been given during the past year. With but few exceptions they have seen a vision of the impulse that may be given. through intelligent and persistent effort, to the work of the Sabbath schools under their care. Many of these committees are now holding regular meetings. During the year, campaigns of Sabbath-school visitation have been successfully carried out. in certain Synods and Presbyteries, by means of which they have come into closer touch with their Sabbath-school problems. The plan of holding a Presbyterial Sabbath-school Institute at least once a year has been adopted for the first time by many of the Presbyteries, and the benefits of such conferences have been seen. The Synodical Sabbath-school Institutes continue to exercise a helpful influence upon the Sabbath-school work of the Synods in which they are held.

Grants

Grants of the following values, were made:

Periodicals, books and tracts, to Sabbath schools, churches, pastors and missionary workers	$10,962.49 679.98
Total	¢19.041.79

Contributions to the amount of $1,964.68 were made through our Board to aid in erecting chapels for mission Sabbath schools, and to other special objects as designated by the donors.

Children's Day and Rally Day

There was an increase of about twenty per cent., compared with the preceding year, in the number of schools using our Children's Day supplies—more than 5,200 Sabbath schools having been supplied with them. About 750,000 copies of the program and supplement were distributed.

There was an increase of nearly fifty per cent. in the number of Sabbath schools using our Rally Day Programs last fall. The total offerings received from Sabbath schools were $93,772.23, an increase of $6,924.37 over the previous year. This is the largest amount ever received in a single year from Sabbath-school offerings.

Foreign Colporteur Work

The insufficiency of our funds to support additional colporteurs accounts for the fact that this part of our missionary force has not been substantially increased during the year. For periods of from three to twelve months 21 colporteurs have been at work among Italians, Hungarians (Magyars), Bohemians, Ruthenians, Russians, Poles, Slovaks, Roumanians and others of foreign speech in Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

They have visited 30,709 families, distributed 6,502 religious books and 93,632 pages of tracts by sale and gift; besides 1,722 Bibles, Testaments and portions of Scripture in at least 20 different languages. The total sales amounted to $1,438.10. (See page 27.)

In addition to their work as book-sellers, it frequently becomes necessary, because of the scarcity of workers, to assign some of these colporteurs to the temporary care of mission stations which have grown out of their labors. This naturally affects their results in the sale of literature and somewhat localizes their work for the time, but in every case where this has been done, the development of permanent work and the large accessions to the Church have fully justified this policy.

Foreign Periodicals

For nearly five years our Board has been publishing "Krestanske Listy" (The Christian Journal), a Bohemian weekly religious paper. Its circulation has grown to 3,000 copies weekly, and numerous reports are received testifying to the good which has been wrought through its faithful presentation of Gospel truth. This paper is read by Bohemians, Moravians and others speaking Slavic dialects. The receipts from subscriptions and advertisements during the year were $2,353.86, reducing the net cost of the paper to $4,880.34. The Rev. V. Losa continues to edit and manage this paper with great efficiency.

The Hungarian weekly, "Reformatusok Lapja" (The Reformed Sentinel), and the Hungarian monthly Sabbath-school magazine, "Oromhir" (The Evangel), were published separately until September of last year, when it was found necessary to transfer the office of publication to New York. On account of the small number of subscribers to both papers, it was deemed wise, in the interest of efficiency and economy, to include the treatment of the Sabbath-school lessons, which formerly appeared monthly in "Oromhir" in weekly parts, in "Reformatusok Lapja." The weekly paper has been greatly improved under the efficient editorship and management of the Rev. Ladislas Harsanyi. The net cost of "Reformatusok Lapja" last year was $2,027.92.

The Ruthenian weekly paper, "Sojuz" (Union), now has a circulation of about 2,000 weekly, including an imprint edition which we are furnishing to the Presbyterian Church in Canada for its Ruthenian work. This paper has done much to encourage and foster the movement of the Ruthenians in America toward Protestantism. The first Ruthenian Protestant church in the United States has just been dedicated in Newark, N. J., and is the direct outgrowth of the seed sown and nourished by our Ruthenian publications, and the personal work of our Ruthenian editor. During the year a book of forms for worship in the Ruthenian language has been published for congregations of that nationality. The net cost of our Ruthenian publications during the year was $1,748.52.

The Italian weekly paper, "L'Araldo" (The Herald), while the newest, is one of the most encouraging of our foreign publications. Its present circulation numbers 2,500 copies weekly. It is receiving the support of Italian missions in our own as well as in other denominations, and we look for its circulation to continue to grow during the coming year. The Rev. Arthur di Pietro is the editor and business manager, through whose aggressive and efficient methods these good results have been achieved. The net cost of this paper during the year was $1,561,54.

The popularity of our Bible Picture Cards in various languages is seen in the increasing demand for them. We are now publishing 13,000 weekly in Bohemian, Polish, Hungarian (Magyar), Italian, Spanish and Ruthenian, and they are being used in missionary work in all parts of the world. The net cost of publishing these cards last year was $185.46.

The entire cost of our foreign work last year was $23,103.47, an increase of $2,793.87 over the previous year. The Rally Day contributions, all of which are applied to this work, approximated $16,000.

Shorter Catechism

Under the Board's offer of a Bible for memorizing the Shorter Catechism, 413 such rewards were given last year. Either the Authorized or the American Revised edition may now be had by those qualifying for this reward.

Acknowledgments

The generous and cordial coöperation of the American Bible Society and its agencies, during the past year, is gratefully acknowledged. Without this assistance, the effectiveness of our workers to whom they have donated copies of the Scriptures for distribution, would have been curtailed.

Financial

Again, at the close of this year, we are able to record a substantial increase in contributions. The amount received this year exceeds the highest amount received in any previous year by $11,777.75.

The proportion of profit (two-thirds) transferred to the Missionary Fund from the Business Department of the Board was increased $1,611.35 over the amount transferred the previous year. These additions to our income enabled us to meet all the expenses of the year's work, closing the year with a balance of $6,539.33 in the treasury.

The cost of administration last year was $9,329.85, or 4.4 per cent. This was entirely covered by the proportion of profit received from the Business Department, $25,134.65, leaving a substantial balance to be applied to the general work.

Comparison of Contributions

The following table shows a comparison of contributions received during the past thirteen years, an increase of 102 per cent. during that period:

The table shown herewith indicates one phase of the educational work of our Sabbath-school missionaries during the past year. They have held 915 Sabbath-school Institutes and Conferences among the mission Sabbath schools under their care, as well as among many of the Sabbath schools connected with organized churches. In these Institutes and Conferences 3,549 Sabbath schools were represented. Sixty-eight Presbyteries and Synods held Sabbath-school Institutes in connection with their regular sessions. The benefits of such Institutes are so marked that the Board urges every Presbytery and Synod to adopt the plan.

In addition to the above, our Synodical and District and Educational Superintendents have conducted successful tours in the Synods of Alabama, Arkansas, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Texas, West Virginia and Wisconsin. On these Institute tours, a different school is visited every day, an afternoon and an evening session being held. In this way a large number of Sabbath-school workers who do not have the opportunity of attending Presbyterial or Synodical Institutes receive instruction with reference to new methods, as well as encouragement and stimulus to more efficient work.

Educational Sabbath-School Work

This Board understands that it is the desire of the General Assembly that it shall be the educational leader of all the Sabbath schools of the Church. To this end all departments and lines of work are coöperating; and the Board is keeping in close touch with all other agencies whose activities aid in any way the work of educational uplift. The work of the year has been shaped with a view to progress along this line.

The Standard of Excellence

In October the Board prepared a widely circulated leaflet announcing ten points of excellence for Presbyterian Sabbath schools, with the following requirements:

- 1. A Cradle Roll.
- 2. A Home Department.
- 3. At least one Organized Adult Bible Class.

- 4. A Teacher-training Class, enrolled and pursuing a standard course.
 - 5. Graded Lessons in at least three grades.
- 6. Distinct Instruction on how to become a Christian, and the duties of church members.
- 7. Definite Invitation to the pupils to accept and confess Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord.
- 8. Systematic Missionary Instruction, and some form of local Missionary Work.
- 9. Offerings each year to at least Three Boards of the Presbyterian Church.
 - 10. The use of Westminster Lesson Helps.

This step met with acceptance on the part of our Sabbath-school workers, and has become the basis of institute addresses, conferences and correspondence in all parts of the Church. The annual statistical blanks for Sabbath schools have been modified slightly, in order to elicit definite information on all of these points; thus enabling Presbyteries, Synods and the Board to measure from year to year the progress made along these lines.

The Graded Lessons

In the movement to secure a satisfactory series of graded lessons for the Sabbath school, the Board has had an active part. It has been represented from the beginning in the Conference which has prepared the outlines of graded lessons for the use of the International Lesson Committee. The Presbyterian Church is also represented among the lesson writers who are jointly preparing the graded helps now used in over fourteen denominations. These helps are carefully edited by the Editorial Department, which has secured improvements to bring them into closer touch with the Church's distinctive teaching. The Business Department is also an influential factor in the work of syndicate publication of these helps.

(For fuller statements of publication and issue, see pages 28-36.)

Other Activities

While the graded lessons have attracted the most attention, the publication and improvement of the Board's Helps for the study of the Uniform Lessons have continued; and through them its educational leadership of the Sabbath schools has been maintained. The same statement may be made as to the influence of our great young people's weekly, Forward, and our other periodicals for Sabbath-school use; also of the books and tracts issued during the year.

Sabbath-School Supplies

Through the Sabbath-school Supply Department, each of the many special lines of modern Sabbath-school work has been carefully studied and its wants met by the offer of the best possible equipment at the lowest possible cost. Several of our lines are unique in the Sabbath-school market. In its catalogue, and in the carefully arranged displays at its various depositories, the Board has sought to educate Sabbath-school workers to want and to secure the most helpful books and requisites, and is constantly meeting and supplying special requests.

Sabbath-School Training

Progress has been made in the important work of training the teachers and officers of our Sabbath schools. The Superintendent of Sabbath-school Training has continued to enroll, examine and grant diplomas to pupils in both the First and Advanced Standard Teacher-training Courses. For the First Course, the Board's book, "Preparation for Teaching," by Charles A. Oliver, has ben the principal text-book used. Recommendations for the Advanced Course, covering three years of more exact study, have also been announced, and many classes have their work on this course well under way. A Correspondence Course for Sabbath-school officers has also been announced. The recognition and encouragement of organized adult Bible classes have been continued. In all these lines the Board's policy is to recognize the able service for improved Sabbath-school work rendered by many of the state associations and by the International Sunday-School Association, cooperating with these associations and securing from them all possible benefit for our own Sabbath schools.

Educational Missionary Work

Early in the year the missionaries were supplied with cards and leaflets to guide them in the educational visitation of their mission schools, and the other schools on their fields. By this means, together with the increased circulation of educational leaflets and the new Standard of Excellence, the educational influence of the missionaries and their visits has been, it is believed, materially increased. The missionaries have also held during the year 915 Institutes.

Four Conferences have been held with the missionaries during the year, and a fifth will meet at San Francisco, following the International Sunday-school Convention, which all our missionaries west of the Rocky Mountains will attend. At these Conferences much valuable instruction has been given the missionaries on improved methods of Sabbath-school work. The Board has also begun the issue of a special series of requisites for the use of small missionary and other Sabbath schools, as outlined in the report for 1910.

Contact with the Field

The Board's representatives last fall attended 30 of the Synods, making educational addresses as well as those in exposition of its own work. A number of the Synods already hold Institutes in connection with their annual meetings, in which the Board's district and field representatives are usually leading factors. The Board is planning to join with the Boards of Home and Foreign Missions in a system of joint Synodical Institutes. Numerous lectures have been given and local Institutes held, wherever it was possible to supply the speakers to meet the demand. The Young People's Department has held its usual series of summer conferences, with great profit to the churches participating. The Board has succeeded in supplying a portion of its field with educational field superintendents, especially qualified to take the lead in institute services, the promotion of teacher-training and the general educational uplift of the Sabbath schools. The territory will thus be covered as rapidly as the men and the means can be found.

On May 1, 1911, an "Educational Bulletin" will be issued to all pastors and superintendents and other leaders, setting forth the various phases of the Board's educational work.

Co-operation

In order to promote closer relations among all the Sabbathschool forces within the field of the Presbyterian Church, steps were taken, in which this Board had a leading part, to form a "Sunday-school Council of Evangelical Denominations," bringing together the official Sabbath-school representatives of all the great denominations for mutual counsel, the exchange of plans, and a closer concert in measures for Sabbath-school improvement. The meeting for organization was held in the Witherspoon Building June 30 and July 1, 1910; an adjourned meeting was held at the same place October 27 and 28, 1910; and a third meeting convened at Nashville, Tenn., January 24 and 25, 1911. result of these meetings has been distinctly helpful; the brethren engaged in like work in the various boards and committees, north and south, have been led into closer harmony and fellowship than prevailed before; and better relations have been established between denominational Sabbath-school work and that of the International Association. The Sabbath school is a national as well as a religious enterprise, and no policy that is not national and continental in its scope can expect to meet either the difficulties or the possibilities of to-day.

Training Schools for Sabbath-School Workers

The General Assembly of 1910 adopted the following resolution: "There has been referred to your Committee an Overture from the Presbytery of Seattle, asking for the establishment of training schools for Sabbath-school workers, preferably in connection with theological seminaries. We recommend that the Board of Publication confer with the Board of Education on this subject, and suggest to the next Assembly a plan by which this desirable end may be obtained." No. 17, page 137, Minutes of 1910.

Acting upon this recommendation, a conference was held with the Board of Education. It was then learned that this Board was already considering this subject, the Assembly having referred to it the question of "Presbyterian Training Schools for Lay Workers."

In view of this two-fold reference of the Assembly to the Boards, it was thought best to hold a conference of the representatives of Presbyterian Training Schools for Lay Workers, under the joint auspices of the two Boards.

The conference was held in Witherspoon Building on December 29 and 30, 1910.

It was attended by representatives of Princeton, Western,

McCormick, Bloomfield and Biddle Theological Seminaries, and from the Presbyterian Training Schools of Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Chicago and Nashville.

After a careful review of the entire subject, the conference adopted resolutions expressing its conclusions regarding the training of lay workers, and requested the Board of Education to act as its representative before the General Assembly in presenting the report of the conference, or any other matters relating to the subject that should come before the Assembly.

The Board of Education has agreed to report to the General Assembly the plan suggested by the conference for the training of lay workers.

Department of Young People's Work

The operations of the Department of Young People's Work have continued during the past twelve months along lines marked out in preceding years. They are as follows:

- 1. A Work of Organization. Information has been given to pastors and leaders concerning a variety of organizations for young people. Model constitutions and organization literature have been furnished free where desired. The organization of young people's societies has been encouraged. As a result—due also, in part, to the Increase Campaign of the United Society of Christian Endeavor—upward of 450 new Endeavor societies have been formed.
- 2. Increasing the Efficiency of Societies Already Organized. The means used to this end have been as follows:
- (a) Direct communication with presidents and secretaries of societies. Approximately 14,400 letters and 33,100 leaflets were sent out in this connection.
- (b) Personal Visitation. Conventions, conferences, rallies and church services in twenty-one different states were addressed by either the Superintendent or his Assistant.
- (c) General Effort. Through literature sent to pastors and to Presbyterial and Synodical Committees on Young People's Work. Circular letters to the number of 29,295, and leaflets to the number of 58,000, were used in this manner.
- (d) The Bureau of Information. Upward of 2,000 letters to inquirers were dictated. Leaflets, on forty different themes, were distributed.

- (e) The Religious Press. Approximately, 15,000,000 copies of our denominational papers contained a message from the Department's Superintendents.
- (f) Summer Conferences. Three Conferences were held last year. Four are planned for this year.

Owing to these efforts a large number of societies have been greatly improved in their work; and many have been radically transformed. The Department has on file a carefully compiled record of progress of all societies from which delegates were sent to the summer conferences. A glance at that file testifies most emphatically for the efforts put forth.

(3) A WORK OF EDUCATION. This is the most difficult task the Department has had to meet. As a means of assisting our Church leaders in instructing the youth along much needed lines, a comprehensive study course has been mapped out and text-books recommended.

The requirements of the course are as follows: First, Bible memory work for junior societies; second, for societies of intermediate age, including boys' clubs, girls' organizations and intermediate societies, two study classes a year; third, for all senior societies, two further study classes; fourth, a pastor's communicants' class; fifth, a small, carefully selected library for the home, adapted to ready reference and individual reading. Though but recently announced, this course has been adopted as a whole, or in part, by a number of churches.

During the year an Assistant to the Superintendent of the Department was employed. The Board was fortunate in securing the services of Rev. Wm. Ralph Hall, formerly Field Secretary of the Michigan Christian Endeavor Union.

The total amount received between April 1, 1910, and April 1, 1911, from contributions made direct to the Department of Young People's Work was $2,488.99. The funds spent above this amount for the Department were appropriated by the Department of Sabbath-school Work.

Special Educational Work of the Church

In addition to this outline of the operations of the Department of Young People's Work, the Assembly of 1910 directed that this report contain a brief survey of the educational work undertaken among our young people by other agencies of the Church. There are seven agencies which have a part in this task. They are as follows:

1. The Assembly's Board of Foreign Missions, through its Educational Department. The sole work of this Department is to promote study classes on foreign missions. Its field of labor is not limited to young people, although the number of adult classes formed each year is probably far smaller than the number of young people's classes. The text-books published by the Young People's Missionary Movement are utilized. abundance of excellent literature—such as helps for teachers, leaflets on methods of organizing classes, etc.—is sent free of charge to any person enrolled at the Department's office.

The staff of the Department eonsists of a Superintendent, his Assistant and two office employés.

2. The Women's Boards of Foreign Missions. Of these Boards there are six. Each one deals directly with the young people and young people's societies in its territory with a view not only to collecting missionary funds from all such, but also in order to do a work of education. The work attempted along the educational line is five-fold:

1st. Programs are issued yearly for use by young people's societies in connection with all foreign mission topics named on the topic card of the United Society of Christian Endeavor. These programs are sent for a nominal charge to those desiring them.

- 2d. Mission study classes are promoted. These classes use either the text-books issued by the Young People's Missionary Movement or those published for women's societies.
- 3d. Chapters of the Westminster Guild, a missionary organization for young ladies, are organized wherever possible. These guilds serve both Foreign and Home Missions, but they were originally started by the Woman's Board of the Northwest, and it is appropriate, therefore, to mention them under this head. The meetings of such guilds are for study purposes and are held monthly. It is recommended that during the year each Chapter completes one course of study on home missions, one on foreign missions and one on the Bible. Text-books for the purpose are issued yearly. Approximately 325 of these guilds are now in existence.

4th. Special objects for contributions are assigned to the young people of each Presbytery through these Boards; and instruction and information are spread abroad with reference thereto.

5th. Missionary bands are organized among the children. The excellent monthly, entitled Over Land and Sea, is published to give missionary information to the children, and serves both home and foreign missionary purposes.

For the purpose of carrying on all this work, a splendid system has been developed. In connection with each Woman's Board there is a secretary for senior young people's societies, another secretary for young ladies' societies and Westminster Guilds, and, in four cases, a third for bands and junior organizations. Under these secretaries, and reporting to them, similar officers are elected in connection with each Synodical and each Presbyterial missionary society. All such officers give their services free of charge. Thus two, and in case of four of the Boards three, complete sets of officers are laboring exclusively for our youth.

- 3. The Women's Board of Home Missions. What the six Women's Boards of Foreign Missions attempt for young people by way of instructing them concerning the foreign field, the Women's Board of Home Missions duplicates with reference to the home field. Study classes, the Westminster Guilds and mission bands are promoted, missionary programs are issued for young people's home missionary prayer meetings, and special objects are assigned for the contribution of the societies in each Presbytery. The same scheme of organization in carrying on the work is used—with the exception that the whole system in this case centers in the office of Miss M. Josephine Petrie, a salaried secretary, who serves, not only as the head secretary for young people's societies in connection with the Women's Board, but also as the secretary of the Young People's Department of the Assembly's Board of Home Missions.
- 4. The Assembly's Board of Home Missions, through its Young People's Department. Miss M. Josephine Petrie, referred to above, gives half her time to the work of this department. Mission study classes are promoted, using the Home Mission textbooks published by the Young People's Missionary Movement. This year about 400 such classes have been reported. Bulletins containing the latest news from various sections of the Home field are printed. This department and the Educational Department of the Board of Foreign Missions assist in the Summer Conferences held by the Department of Young People's Work for the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work by selecting the teachers for the mission study classes therein conducted and also two missionary speakers. For the expenses of these speakers and teachers they assume part financial responsibility.

- 5. The Board for Freedmen. This Board, chiefly through its Ladies' Auxiliary Board, attempts to educate the young people with reference to Freedmen. Some study classes are promoted, programs for meetings dealing with the negro problem are prepared, and contributions are collected.
- 6. The Assembly's Permanent Committee on Temperance. Through this committee the organization of Loyal Temperance Legions among the youth of the Church is promoted. Temperance literature is furnished, including pledge eards bearing the total abstinence pledge; and a paper, entitled The Amethyst is edited and distributed.
- 7. The Board of Education through its Department of University Work. By securing and helping to support student pastors in connection with Presbyterian churches situated near the state universities, this Board is doing a helpful work for Presbyterian students. A secretary is engaged to supervise the work. Eight student pastors in different fields are now supported, at least in part, in this manner. By them classes in Bible study, mission study and other subjects are maintained for the students. The work of the Board of Education in educating young men looking to the ministry is well known.
- 8. The College Board. The religious educational work done by the colleges aided by this Board is of a high character. Courses of study on the Bible and kindred themes are provided by all.

In addition to the educational work attempted by the agencies within our own denomination, our young people are likewise affected by efforts put forth from many sources outside of the denomination. There are many boys' clubs to be found in our own churches—such as the Boys' Brigade, the Knights of King Arthur, Junior Brotherhoods, Boy Scouts of America, etc. Each of these looks for direction to headquarters, which are interdenominational, and in each a considerable amount of religious education is attempted. The same is true of societies among our older youth, such as the Christian Endeavor, the King's Daughters, and others.

The Graded Lessons

The Graded Lessons were adopted by the International Sunday-School Association at the earnest request of teachers and workers in all parts of the country. There had been a growing feeling among elementary workers for a number of years that lessons adapted to younger children should be chosen for these departments instead of those selected for the whole school. At length this desire prevailed, and the arrangement for Graded Lessons for all departments, so far as might be desired, was adopted by the International Association. These lessons were begun October 1, 1909. The lessons for the Primary and Junior Departments were then introduced. They became popular at once, and a great many of the Sabbath schools of the Presbyterian Church adopted them. Many, however, still continued to use the Uniform Lessons, which are published as heretofore; and our Sabbath schools are at liberty to use either course.

The General Assembly of 1909 expressed its appreciation of the results of the work of the International Sunday-school Association's Lesson Committee in the Graded Lessons, so far as published, and commended them to the favorable consideration of pastors, sessions and Sunday schools. The Assembly of 1910 again commended the Graded Lessons, and the helps on the same, published by the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work, and advised the pastors, sessions and Sunday schools to use them, so far as practicable.

It is impossible to state precisely the extent to which the Graded Lessons are now used, but it is probably safe to say that in the elementary grades one-third of our schools have adopted them. The reception of these lessons has been more than cordial—it has been enthusiastic. Few complaints have been heard; at least the commendations have far exceeded the criticisms. Among the advantages reported are: an increased interest on the part of pupils, an enlarged attendance, larger use of the Bible and more home study. In a few cases, schools have returned to the use of the Uniform Lessons, after trying the Graded Lessons.

sons, but such a course has usually been accounted for on the ground of economy, or some other like reason.

In October of 1910, Graded Lessons for the Intermediate Department were issued. There was at once a demand for them from perhaps one-third of the schools in the Presbyterian Church. There were some criticisms on the lessons for the first and second quarters in this department, but these lessons have been carefully revised, and the objectionable features have been removed, so that we believe they will prove satisfactory. Objection has been made by some to the extra-biblical lessons, that is, where biographies are introduced—but modifications have been made in these, and in every case a Scripture passage is given for study, with the biographical or other treatment as illustrative.

One of the principal difficulties in preparing and planning for the publication of these Graded Lessons was the necessary cost of such preparation. If undertaken by our Board alone, the lesson helps would have been too expensive for popular use, the necessary prices being, in many instances, prohibitive. This led to an arrangement by the publication departments of several of the larger Churches, including the Methodist Episcopal Church, North and South, the Congregational Church, and the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., for uniting in their publication. This syndication has made it possible to bring the cost of the lessons down to a figure which will not be burdensome to most of the schools. It is hoped, too, that the price can be still further reduced after the lessons have been once prepared, the initial cost being thus eliminated. We will then have no editorial expense such as we have now for the making of the lessons, but will use the same courses year after year.

It will be interesting to those who use the Graded Lessons to know how the editorial work is provided for. The Editors of the several houses in the syndication engage the lesson writers, a different one for each grade. These receive definite instructions. Their work is then submitted to the syndicate, and each of the Editors reviews it, his correction being incorporated in the final copy.

The writers of the lessons are—Beginners, Miss Frances Danielson, who is a Congregationalist; Primary, Miss Marion Thomas, Reformed Church in America; Junior, Miss Josephine L. Baldwin, Methodist Episcopal; Intermediate, Rev. Milton S.

Littlefield, Presbyterian. Of these, Miss Thomas and Miss Baldwin had prepared the Primary and Junior Quarterlies of the Uniform Series for our Presbyterian Board for a number of years, with universal approval.

Thus, it will be seen, the utmost care is given to the preparation of the lessons for the Graded Series, the same care that is given to the preparation of all the lesson helps that go out from this office.

Illustrated Papers

Forward continues to grow in interest. It is freely conceded that no paper in the country for young people surpasses Forward in interest and popularity. It is filled every week with choicest things for its readers. The best short story and other writers for young people are among its contributors. From readers of all ages the most appreciative commendations are received continually. While intended primarily for older classes in Sabbath school, Forward is adapted also for young people in the home, the school and everywhere. people, too, like it. It has a Christian Endeavor or Young People's Society Department, with brief notes on the weekly topics, and contains articles from time to time on the work of the young people's societies. The low price at which Forward is furnished brings it within the reach of all. In clubs it costs less than one cent a number. Single subscriptions, a year 75 cents; subscriptions for two or more copies in the same wrapper. addressed to one person, 50 cents a year.

The Comrade takes the place of The Sabbath-School Visitor, the oldest of the periodicals of the Board. It is an improvement, however, on its predecessor. The pages are larger. The paper is more sprightly. It is adapted to a younger class of readers than Forward. It is an illustrated four-page paper, each number containing attractive and valuable matter. It is published weekly. Single subscriptions, per year, 50 cents; school subscriptions, to one address, 30 cents.

The Morning Star is issued to meet the demand in some schools for a paper at small cost. It is of the same quality, grade and style as The Comrade, about half its size. It is issued every week. Single subscriptions, 25 cents a year; school subscriptions, to one address, 15 cents.

The Sunbeam is a four-page weekly illustrated paper for very little people. It is attractive not only in its appearance, but also in its contents. No subscriptions are taken for less than one month. Single subscriptions, 30 cents a year; school subscriptions, to one address, 20 cents a year for each pupil.

Business Department

According to the statement on page 39, there has been published during the year 4,816,360 copies of books and tracts, and 55,941,676 copies of periodicals, which, together with 8,000 copies of the Annual Report for the year ending March 31, 1909, make an aggregate of 60,766,036 publications for the year.

The work of placing these publications on the market is performed by means of the main store in Philadelphia, the Depositories in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco and Nashville, and six other houses where the publications of the Board can be obtained.

The Depositories conducted by the Board are as follows:

Depositories

New York, N. Y., G. W. Brazer, Manager, 156 Fifth Avenue. Chicago, Ill., W. P. Blessing, Manager, 509 South Wabash Avenue. St. Louis, Mo., J. H. Springer, Manager, 505 North Seventh Street. Nashville, Tenn., W. H. Shearon, Manager, 413-415 Church Street. San Francisco, Cal., W. H. Webster, Manager, 400 Sutter Street.

The other houses referred to are:

Pittsburgh, Pa., Board of Colportage, 202 Fulton Building.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Western Tract Society, 420 Elm Street.
Richmond, Va., The Presbyterian Committee of Publication, 212-214 North Sixth Street.
Toronto, Ontario, Upper Canada Tract Society, 102 Yonge Street.
Winnipeg, Manitoba, Russell, Lang & Co., 504 Main Street.
Publication Committee Presbyterian Church of England, 21 Warwick Lane, London, E. C.

These houses with the exception of the one in London, furnish all our publications at the Board's prices.

Sales

The sales of Books and Sunday-school and Church Supplies for the year amount to $340,595.26. These include not only the publications of the Board, but those of other publishers as well.

The sales of Periodical Lesson Helps and Illustrated Papers amount to $546,445.36, making aggregate sales for the year of $887,040.26. These amounts do not coincide with the Treasurer's account, as they include credit sales, whereas the latter takes cognizance only of each receipts.

The above figures of sales include not only those of the main house at Philadelphia and Depositories throughout the country, but also those made by the Sabbath-school missionaries. These are charged to the Missionary Department at "the best rate of discount allowed on the same class of publications to the most favored branch houses in the country." The missionaries are required to sell for eash only.

Capital and Net Profits

The capital at the beginning of the year, according to the balance sheet of the last report, was $321,529.69. The net profits of the year were $40,834.61. Of this sum two thirds, or $27,223.07, have been placed to the credit of the Sabbath-School and Missionary Fund, in accordance with the direction of the General Assembly, and will be paid in quarterly installments during the next fiscal year. The remaining third, or $13,611.54, has been added to the capital, making the amount as now reported $335.141.23.

FORTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Board of the Church Erection Fund.

To the General Assembly of the Presbytcrian Church in the United States of America:

In presenting its Forty-first* Annual Report, the Board of the Church Erection Fund gratefully acknowledges the Divine favor which has attended the work of the year, while it sorrowfully records its great loss in the death of three of its most prominent and devoted members, and also its efficient and beloved Corresponding Secretary. Concerning these brethren the Board passed the following Resolutions:

"The Board of the Church Erection Fund hereby places upon record its recognition of the great loss it has sustained in the death of Elder Ira Remsen Lane, a faithful and beloved member of the Board for the last four years. Mr. Lane was a man of prominence in the business life of New York, having been connected with the Hanover Fire Insurance Company, and for many years its President. His interest in the progress and benevolent activities of the Presbyterian Church, of which he was long an elder, was marked and constant. In this Board as a member of its Finance Committee, his faithful attendance, his business ability and his wise counsel insured the respect and confidence of all his fellow-members, while his attractive personality, his unvarying courtesy and his genial bearing won their hearts and made his presence ever welcome. The Board feels keenly that this vacancy in its ranks will be hard to fill."

From Minutes, meeting of September 19, 1910:

MINUTE UPON THE DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM N. CRANE.

Upon report of the death on the 14th September of William N. Crane, it was, upon motion,

^{*}The work was inaugurated by the General Assembly [O. S.] in 1844; the Board [N. S.] was incorporated in 1855; the two Boards were united in 1870, from which year this present report numbers.

Resolved, That in recording the death, on Wednesday, the 14th inst., of William N. Crane, who was elected a member of this Board by the General Assembly in May, 1881, was appointed a member of the Finance Committee in June, 1882, and became Chairman of that Committee in January, 1890, we cannot but express our great sorrow in the loss of a faithful and earnest fellow-worker and a brother beloved; a man in whom the spirit of God was—a spirit of kindly affection which touched an answering chord in our hearts—a spirit of sound wisdom and understanding, ever helpful in all the work committed to us, particularly in the work of his own Committee, and conspicuously in any crisis or emergency when in quietness and confidence was his strength. Reverently do we thank God for the gifts bestowed upon his servant and used unsparingly throughout the span of a generation, in whole-hearted co-operation in the execution of our trust.

MINUTE UPON THE DEATH OF DR. MAGIE.

The death of the Rev. David Magie, D.D., President of the Board, having been officially reported, the following action was taken:

The Board hereby places upon record its sense of its deep and irreparable bereavement in the death, October 3, 1910, of the Rev. David Magie, D.D., its honored and beloved President.

Dr. Magie became a member of the Board in 1875, and during the long period of thirty-five years was one of its most faithful and efficient members, rarely absent from its meetings; deeply interested in all departments of its work; weighty in its deliberations and wise in counsel.

Upon the death of Dr. Alexander in 1894, he was elected President of the Board, and as such was unwearied in his constant devotion to its interests, calling often—and after his pastorate ended at Paterson almost daily—at the office to render the frequent services called for by his office.

Aside from his connection with the Board, Dr. Magie's service in the Church was long and eminent. Born in 1837, he was a graduate of Princeton College and Theological Seminary. He was ordained in 1860 by the Presbytery of Rockaway; was pastor at Mendham, N. J., from 1860-66; at Pen Yan, N. Y., 1866-72; of the First Church of Paterson, N. J., 1872-1886, and of the Church of the Redeemer of that city from 1886 to 1907, when he became Pastor Emeritus. He was for many years a trustee of Princeton Seminary.

Respected and beloved by all who knew him, he leaves a memory that will long be cherished in the Church and especially by this Board, and which is a precious heritage to his children and grandchildren.

Minute adopted at the regular meeting of the Board of Church Erection held on the 20th day of February, 1911:

The Reverend Erskine Norman White, D.D., who has been associated with this Board for a whole generation, and who, for a quarter of a century, has served as its honored and efficient Corresponding Secretary, died, at his home in this city, on Monday, February 13, 1911, in the seventy-eighth year of his age.

Dr. White entered upon his official relation with this Board in the full fruition of powers due to a high order of endowment and environment, conjoined with the rich and ripe experience he had gathered in his several pastorates, from which he had retired, carrying with him the universal confidence, respect and love of the communities in which he had lived and served.

He possessed, in a very marked degree, those peculiar qualities of mind and heart which make up the ideal Secretary. He was strong and lucid in thought, clear and forceful in expression, prudent yet courageous in counsel, sincere and earnest in endeavor. He was profoundly religious without being bigoted and pious without the slightest suggestion of cant or intolerance. By his wisdom, his sympathy and his charity, by his personal dignity, his uniform courtesy and his untiring zeal, he so won the love and confidence of every member of our Board that we were wont to lean on his strength, to confide in his judgment and to follow his advice. We shall miss his presence and guidance. We lament our loss and as a faint expression of our appreciation of a man whom we have known and loved, who has left behind him a name enshrined upon many hearts, and also to perpetuate the memory of a grand and useful life, we, the members of the Board of the Church Erection Fund, with tenderest feelings and deepest sorrow, enter this Minute upon our records and also transmit a copy of the same to his family. to whom we tender that sincere sympathy which is generated by a sense of mutual bereavement, conjoined with the heart-felt prayer that the God of all comfort may cast about them "the everlasting arms" and bestow upon them "the all-sufficient grace."

While the Board mourns the loss and misses the co-operation of these brethren beloved, it heartily thanks God for their long terms of service, and for their loyalty to and their efficiency in the great work entrusted to it.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

In response to certain suggestions made by the Advisory Council on Church Extension, appointed by the General Assembly, the Board assured the Council, as it now assures the General Assembly, of its desire and purpose to co-operate heartily in the effort "to inaugurate a general forward movement for Church Extension by a campaign in places where such movement is needed." To effect this end the Board has already sent a letter to the Stated Clerk of each Presbytery reciting the action of the General Assembly of 1910 (see Minutes, p. 182), rehearsing the advice of the Advisory Council and requesting that these matters be brought officially before the Presbytery and the action of that body be reported to the Board in order that it may frame its plans for carrying out the mandate of the General Assembly. Before taking further action the Board awaits the response of the Presbytery.

The Advisory Council also suggests that the Board, in view of the rapidly expanding work of Church Erection, increase the executive force of the Board by the appointment of "a field secretary for the raising of funds, for the enlargement of the work, and for the conserving of property interests."

The Board recognizes the wisdom of this suggestion and inclines to the opinion that in addition to the functions above stated, such an agent by bringing the Board into closer contact with the churches would give the latter a larger and moreaccurate insight as to its real work. From a lack of a more intimate acquaintance, the Board is regarded by many as a merely receiving and disbursing agency. It is popularly styled, "The Business Board of the Church." There is a large measure of justice in that designation—not that it is more businesslike than other Boards, but it does not support the living messenger. It does not come into immediate contact with the active agents of instruction. It is at once a legal, banking, architectural and insurance corporation. It has to do chiefly with titles, deeds, mortgages, interest, partial payments, insurance policies, collections, building plans and estimates, and other property interests. In these things it may be unique among the Boards of the Church, but as long as we live in the flesh, and have to do with the people and the affairs of this material world, these things are necessary in the Divine arrangement, and being necessarily and vitally connected with the organization and progress of the Kingdom, this work is sacred.

THE YEAR'S WORK.

Throughout the year the Board has maintained with conscientious fidelity the measures and method which the General Assembly formulated for its guidance. In the administration of this great trust the Board has felt the constant stress and strain of an ever-increasing work. The normal growth of the church, its constant extension into new fields, the expansion of villages into the proportion of cities, and the swelling population of cities account, in a measure, for the large number of applications and the unprecedented increase of the amounts applied for. A number of applications have been received from former Cumberland Churches, action upon which has been postponed awaiting the result of litigation involving the question of the legality of the reunion.

Under these conditions the most careful discrimination has been required. Either over-appropriation and the consequent postponement of payments, or postponement of action upon many applications became necessary.

From these figures it appears that the total number of applications is 7 per cent. greater than last year, and the total amount is 10 per cent. greater than last year. Moreover, it is worthy of note that the increase in total amount asked since 1900 is 94 per cent.

This great increase is but partially accounted for by the facts above stated. The main explanation is found in the fact that the population of our country is rapidly tending to the cities, where the missionary operations of the Church are chiefly concentrated. The country churches are fading away.

The original purpose of our Board to aid feeble congregations on the frontier to erect inexpensive buildings, has come to occupy a subordinate place. Its work is fast shifting to the cities. This fact tells the story. In the cities the land is far more costly, building material required by municipal conditions and ordinances are far more expensive, and the larger congregations in the city missions require larger churches. These causes for this advance give no promise of abatement. We must expect a constant increase of expenditures as well as a widening expansion of our field of operations. But the resources of the Board, greatly as they will be increased by the income from the Kennedy Fund, will not cope with the inevitable growth of our work. Doubtless, this anticipated increase of the Board's resources stimulated church enterprises which had been waiting.

The following table, which gives the receipts from all sources for the year, will show the powerlessness of the Board to meet the increased demands that were made upon it.

The slight falling off in both number and aggregate amount of appropriations is explained by two facts: (1) There were no appropriations from the Buell, the Van Meter, the Gilchrist and the Hoyt Funds. These Funds, being small, produce annually but a slender income, which is usually held several years until the accumulation is sufficient to afford substantial aid to applicants. The receipts for several years from these Funds were appropriated last year. (2) Payments of appropriations amounting to $18,000 were necessarily deferred. Receipts from churches, Sabbath-schools and individuals came in slowly until the month of March, when one-third of the entire receipts from these sources for the fiscal year came to hand.

THE KENNEDY BEQUEST.

In February the Board received from the executors of the estate of the late John S. Kennedy securities of the value of $1,722,375 and $527.625 in cash, amounting in the total to $2,250,000. The securities for the present are held as received. The cash is being invested in bonds and mortgages in accordance with the instructions of the General Assembly of 1910, which were as follows:

First: That the entire amount received from the Kennedy bequest be invested as a principal to be known as the Kennedy Fund and only the interest thereon be used by the Board.

Second: The Committee recommend that this fund be invested as follows: in bonds and mortgages which are first liens on first-class improved real estate situate in the City of New York, the title to which is held in fee simple and has been examined and approved in a manner satisfactory to this Board; that no loan be greater than sixty per cent. of a careful appraisement made by the best appraisers of real estate in the City of New York, and that in making such loans the safety of the loan and the regularity of the payment of the interest thereon shall be considered rather than a high rate of interest; it being considered by the Board that the safety of the principal fund shall be of prior importance. The Committee recommend that no loan be made on what may be called suburban or country property, and that in all cases insurance against loss by fire shall accompany the bond and mortgage. If practicable, loans of $20,000 or upwards should be preferred.

In addition to the investment of the character above stated, we recommend to the Board the investing a portion of the proceeds of this bequest in first mortgage bonds of our best regulated railroads, which have not been in default for five years preceding the investment, and which have for such period paid regular dividends on their common stock. All the investments above referred to shall also be made in accordance with the laws of the State of New York concerning the investment of the funds of Savings Banks in said State.

Third: The Committee recommend that the Board take action from time to time upon the distribution of the interest of this bequest among such of the departments of the work of this Board as may seem to be wise.

Fourth: The loans by way of mortgage already referred to should be without the payment by the Board of any commissions for obtaining the loan or examining the title.

Fifth: That the arrangements for caring for this fund should be such as to preclude the incurring of any special expense or charge for the maintenance and care of the fund.

THE TENNESSEE CHURCHES.

For the relief of the evicted churches in Tennessee, the Board, under authority given by the General Assembly, advanced during the year $64,000 which, by the instructions of the Assembly, is a charge upon the income to be derived from the investments of the Kennedy Fund. Forty-five churches were aided.

^{*}In comparing the number of appropriations with the number of churches still upon the roll which have been aided, it should be noted, as appears in the columns of payments, that about 5 per cent. do not call for their appropriations, that about the same number have received more than one appropriation, and that others from one cause or another are either dissolved or consolidated, the actual average increase in the number of churches upon the roll of the Assembly being about 65 per cent of the number reported as organized. It is therefore probable that the number of churches now enrolled which have been assisted by the Board is not more than two-thirds of the total number of appropriations paid.

This instructive table shows that the appropriations have been quite equally distributed from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Taking the country by general districts, we find that 71 of the appropriations were made to the district east of the Mississippi River, an average of one to 1.072 square miles; 109 among the States of the plains between the Mississippi and the Rocky Mountains, one to 8,316 square miles; and 93 to the Rocky Mountain district, one to 13,494 square miles. There remaineth, therefore, very much land to be occupied.

In the Atlantic coast States there were 24, and in the States lying on the Pacific coast (omitting Alaska) there were 49—nearly an equal distribution of appropriations in proportion to areas.

In California, in which four of the trans-continental railroads terminate, there were 27. In Oklahoma and Texas, which lie close to Galveston, the second seaport of our country, there were 49—nearly equal in proportion to territorial area.

It is an interesting fact that the average amount appropriated in the States east of the Mississippi River was $829, between the Mississippi and the Rocky Mountains $877, and in the Rocky Mountain States and Territories it was $829—exactly equal to the eastern district.

It therefore appears that in all the States, old and new, East and West, the Board of the Church Erection Fund has a permanent and growing business.

The causes that have been operative in enlarging the Board's work and increasing the demands upon its treasury give no promise of abatement. Indications point to still greater requirements next year. The distribution of appropriations as exhibited by the tables show that churches long established are rebuilding or enlarging, new churches are multiplying quite evenly all over the country. Colonies of people of foreign tongues, both in cities and in rural regions, are being reached by missionaries, and houses of worship and manses are required. The older States form no exception. The communities in the newer States are growing wealthier and more substantial and requiring larger and better church buildings. The little frontier churches of other days are being abandoned for buildings of larger proportions.

The vast irrigation systems, costing hundreds of millions of dollars, are bringing millions of acres of most productive lands into cultivation and attracting multitudes of people. At the close of the Mexican War, Mr. Webster expressed something more than indifference toward the proposition to accept that great Southwest region from Mexico. He opposed the acceptance of the offer. In the Senate he said: "Why, you will never see fifty families in that whole region." We now have 5,000,000 of American citizens permanently settled in comfortable homes in those territories. He said to Marcus Whitman: "You will never get a wheel across the Rocky Mountains." Nine trans-continental railroads now penetrate that mountain range.

The "Great American Desert" of that day is now the great American wheat field, with a population of 14,000,000. The farm products of that region last year amounted in value to $3,000,000,000. Thomas H. Benton said: "The Rocky Mountains were useful only in fixing an eternal barrier to the western movement of civilization." These mountains produced, last year, scores of millions of dollars' worth of precious metals and baser minerals. The records of the Board of Church Erection show that along the canyons and on the mountain sides and in the interlying valleys there are innumerable villages and cities with a thousand Presbyterian churches.

The lateral branches of those railroads are pouring in multitudes of people who are building cities and villages and calling for help in building churches. Galveston, now second only to New York as a port of entry, tells the story of the growth of the great Southwest. Los Angeles, with its splendid harbor and three transcontinental railroads, is opening up with wonderful rapidity the vast remote Southwest. Seattle has an unsurpassed harbor and four transcontinental railroads with the vast and varied Northwest behind it. Chicago and St. Louis are getting ready to send ships through to the Gulf, and thence, by way of the Panama short cut, to the Orient. It does not require a seer's vision to foretell the teeming populations of our immense West. Nor must we think twice to foresee the multitude of churches which we must build if our country is to be saved for Christ. Our present and immediately prospective income will go but a little way toward meeting the demands which will be made upon our Board. Even if the older States would let up a little in their demands upon us, we shall still be unable to cope with the problem. But they cannot let up. Like the poor, we shall always have them with us. Their problems of church expansion and church building from the nature of things must be perpetual.

Report of the General Assembly's Standing Committee.

The Standing Committee of the General Assembly on the work of the "Board of the Church Erection Fund" respectfully reports that in accordance with the duties which belong to us we have examined the Minutes of the business meetings of the Board and the Report of its Treasurer, and we have also considered most carefully the Overtures referred to us, and our recommendations on these and other related subjects are herewith presented to you for your favorable consideration and action.

It is not at all surprising that with the passing of the years and the growth of the Church in all parts of our land, the demands made by churches and Presbyteries upon the available resources of this Board should also grow. It would be surprising if it did not.

In all parts of this land the representatives of our Church are found at work, under the commission of the Home Board, or the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work, or the Freedmen's Board, or employed by Synodical agencies, while no small number are at work under the wise guidance and enterprising efforts of earnest pastors and their faithful sessions, using the consecrated services of their church members in particular forms of missionary effort in nearby villages. In an expanding town or rapidly growing city, a chapel or a church building is demanded in which to carry forward this Christlike work; the people of the locality are supposed to give to these enterprises to the limit of their ability, and they know that a debt on the modest church edifice will be not only too heavy a financial burden to carry, but, if allowed to remain, will prevent the newly organized church from offering a sufficient stipend to its minister, and we all know that under the most favorable circumstances the salaries of the pastors of our newly organized and our smaller churches are pitiably small. The church debt will also act as a deterrent, and many families coming within the bounds of a parish upon whose church or chapel edifice a debt is resting, use that as an excuse for going elsewhere or remaining at home.

To meet and to relieve these conditions, the Board of Church Erection as our agent has been engaged in this useful, practical, necessary and increasingly important work in the years of its existence, and never before in all its history were there so many and so pressing appeals reaching it for assistance as at the present time.

So long as there is room for the peoples of the Old World in this New World, and so long as cities increase in population, and towns and villages rise with varying degrees of rapidity on plain or seashore or mountainside, and so long as the tides of population ebb and flow as the waves of the sea, just so long will the Church need an agency such as this. The work of this Board puts into concrete form, in more than one sense as to the meaning of that word, a standing, visible and tangible proof and illustration of the strong and the able ever ready to help bear the burdens of the weak.

A review of the work of the year reveals a wise administration of the great trust committed to this Board as to the appropriation of moneys to the petitioning churches not only in the amounts granted or loaned, but also in the wide and extended area over which the distribution has been made.

"Seventy-one of the appropriations were made to the district east of the Mississippi Riyer, 109 among the States and plains between that river and the Rocky Mountains and 93 to the Rocky Mountain region."

And the average amount of money appropriated to the churches of the three great districts were almost exactly the same—between $800 and $900.

It can be seen on the face of the Report and in the nature and practical operations of the Board that it has no favored part of the country for the distribution of the moneys coming to its treasury, and that in its purview there is no East or West, North or South, as such, but one undivided land and one great Church, planting its beacon lights on hill-tops and establishing its temples of worship and other soul-renewing agencies on broadly spreading plains and in rapidly growing cities, and the grants which have been made to these many churches in all parts have been made for the one simple, plain reason that they have been worthy cases, all of them, and if there is one regret which is deeper and stronger with the members of the Board than another, it is that they were unable from lack of funds to return a prompt "yes" to all requests which came to them for assistance.

The fact is that the applications for assistance exceeded by $163,000 all the available annual income of the Board, and consequently the Board was compelled to do at least one or more of three things:

- Reduce in some cases grants, as compared with the amounts asked, and
- 2. Defer action on others that they may take their proper order in the work of the present year, or
 m 3}$. Promise assistance, but postpone to a later date the appropriation itself.

In one phase of the Board's work it is a distributing agent of the Church. If the churches having church edifices will send the Board their contributions in larger proportions, no church organization need be a long time waiting for the conveniences and the comforts of a house of worship.

The instructions of the last General Assembly concerning former Cumberland churches in the State of Tennessee have been obeyed to the extent of $64,000 advanced during the last year upon the anticipated income of the Kennedy Fund. The instructions of the General Assembly of 1910 are found on the 12th page of the Board's Report.

The Board received during the year gifts from churches and Sundayschools amounting to $69,723.23. It also received for its General Fund and the funds closely allied with it, from various sources, as itemized in the Treasurer's Report, $93,673.12. Total, $153,550.87. And for its Loan Funds a further sum of $101,846.42.

The Board has also received the John S. Kennedy bequest of $2,250,000, and reinvested in bonds and mortgages that portion of it which was in cash in accordance with the instructions of the last General Assembly. The securities are held in the form in which they were received, and it is the expectation of the Board to make a Report to the next General Assembly of a full year's receipts from that magnificent legacy.

Grants have been made to petitioning churches to the full total of the year's receipts, and these grants have either been paid in full or the money is now held by the Treasurer awaiting the notifications that the particular churches have complied with the conditions. Not one dollar is kept in the Board's treasury so long as a church is in need of it to free it from the burden of its debt. The Board should be encouraged not only to safeguard its present invested funds, but also to insure those investments as rapidly as possible. If a man of the keen insight and clear foresight of the late John S. Kennedy placed such a high estimate upon the value of this cause, surely the entire Church should adopt as its own that wise plan so far as this Board is concerned.

The Board is making an earnest appeal to our churches and to our men of wealth for larger gifts to meet the demands which are increasing because of the advanced cost of building materials and the increased wage rate of mechanics in all portions of the country. These items alone call for tens of thousands of dollars more each year than fifteen or twenty years ago to do the same kind of work.

Because of the ever-increasing number of churches asking assistance, the total number of applications is 7 per cent. greater and the total amount asked is 10 per cent. greater than last year. Surely, it is the ambition and the determination of the Church to keep pace in its gifts with the applications which this Board ought to be empowered to grant. That part of the problem is before the Church in the coming days and months. May she solve it correctly and in such a manner as to bring upon her the blessing of Almighty God, for Jehovah said, "It was well that it was in my heart to build a heart unto my name."

RECOMMENDATIONS.

- 1. That the General Assembly approve the records of the Board which the Committee has examined and found to be full and accurate.
- That the General Assembly approve the Treasurer's Report, which is extensive and complete, and certified by public accountants.
- 3. That the Assembly approve and commend the fidelity, ability and economy with which this great agency of the Church has discharged this difficult trust, through a year which has been marked by severe disablements, in the loss, by death, of three important members and their great Secretary, the Rev. Erskine N. White, D.D.
- 4. That the Assembly commend the promptness with which the Board has carried out its instructions in extending relief to the evicted churches in Tennessee to the number of forty-five, by advancing $64,000 to be repaid out of the income of the Kennedy Fund.

- 5. That the Presbyteries needing aid in buying lots and buildings under exceptionally severe conditions be advised to co-operate with the Board in raising special Church Extension Funds, as approved by the General Assembly of 1910.
- 6. That the Assembly call the attention of churches which have-received aid at any time from the Board to their solemn engagement to take annual offerings for the cause and that the churches to which the Board has made loans be reminded of their sacred obligations to pay promptly the interest, the annual installment of the principal, and the insurance premiums.
- 7. That in view of the rapidly increasing applications, both in number and the amounts asked for, exceeding, as they do, the Board's resources, the Assembly urge all churches, Sabbath-schools, societies and individual givers to greater liberality in their offerings to this Board, whose work is fundamentally important in the advancement of the Kingdom of our Lord.
- 8. That Overture No. 242, being a memorial from the Presbytery of West Jersey, asking the General Assembly to authorize and direct the Board of Church Erection to transfer the annual income of the Van Meter Fund to that Presbytery, that said Presbytery may apply the money according to the terms and intent of the will, be answered in the affirmative, provided no legal barriers exist.

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

165 BROADWAY New York

APRIL 27, 1911.

Finance Committee,
Presbyterian Board of Church Erection,
New York City.

GENTLEMEN:

We have completed our examination of the accounts of your Treasurer for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1911, and certify that the Balance Sheet submitted correctly sets forth the financial condition of the Board as shown by the books, and that the assets appearing on the Treasurer's statement of "Assets Protecting Special Funds" were verified and found correct according to the records.

All disbursements for the period were verified by canceled bank checks or properly approved vouchers. We have verified the cash in the office and the bank balances, and have inspected the investment mortgages and church mortgages, securing interest bearing loans belonging to all Funds, which were found correct as stated.

We have also examined the Railroad and New York City securities, and certify that proper securities as shown in the statement referred to above were duly on deposit in the Mercantile Safe Deposit Vaults on April 4, 1911.

Respectfully yours,

SUFFERN & SON, Certified Public Accountants.
